HISTORY

We, the Class of 1945, entered high school in September, 1941 as green as the grass under our feet and the leaves over our heads. As Freshmen, we were often told we were the worst class that ever stepped foot in Dells High. We took this joking with good grace, as we continued on our upward trend to be known as one of the most unusual classes ever to become a part of this famous scholarly institution!!

Under the supervision of Mr. Switzgoebel, our class advisor, we chose Bennett Dyer for our president; assisted by Ed Jahn, vice-president, and Byron Hacker, secretary-treasurer.

The following September we were mighty Sophomores. At our first class meeting with our class advisor, Mr. Counsell, we elected Joe Kaiser, president, Phyllis Morse, vice-president, and Byron Hacker, secretary-treasurer.

As brilliant Sophomores we considered ourselves as part of the high school and not just something to be pestered, tormented, laughed at, and picked on as we were when Freshmen. We decided it was now safe to crawl out of our shell and take part in the festivities of the school.

Our Junior year proved to be both interesting and exciting with the help of Miss Dobson. With careful consideration we elected Dale Kimball to lead our prom. The other officers were Marion Sarrington, vice-president, and Phyllis Lunde, secretary-treasurer.

The big event of the year, of course, was the prom. After a short time we decided on the theme of an Underwater Prom. To everyones expectations Dale chose Violet Taylor as his Queen. As usual the work was done by a few of the more ambitious students in the class. The music was furnished by Hal Edwards' Orchestra. All in all the occasion went off with a great deal of success.

The spade was awarded this year to Marilyn Emmerich for her extraordinary achievements.

We came back to school in the fall of 1944 as dignified seniors, with Miss Western as our class advisor. We elected Marilyn Emmerich, president, Beverly Counsell, vice-president, Joan Johnson, secretary, and Bob Gavinski, treasurer.

Our class has dwindled from 63 to 38. There are many reasons for this, mainly the call to duty from Uncle Sam. Due to this there is a severe shortage of the male species.

So we end our historic four years in W. D. H. S. with no serious damage done. Mr. Gribble has a few more gray hairs and a much shorter temper but that is the least of our worries now! We will always remember high school days and we know that Dells High will always remember what a super class we were.

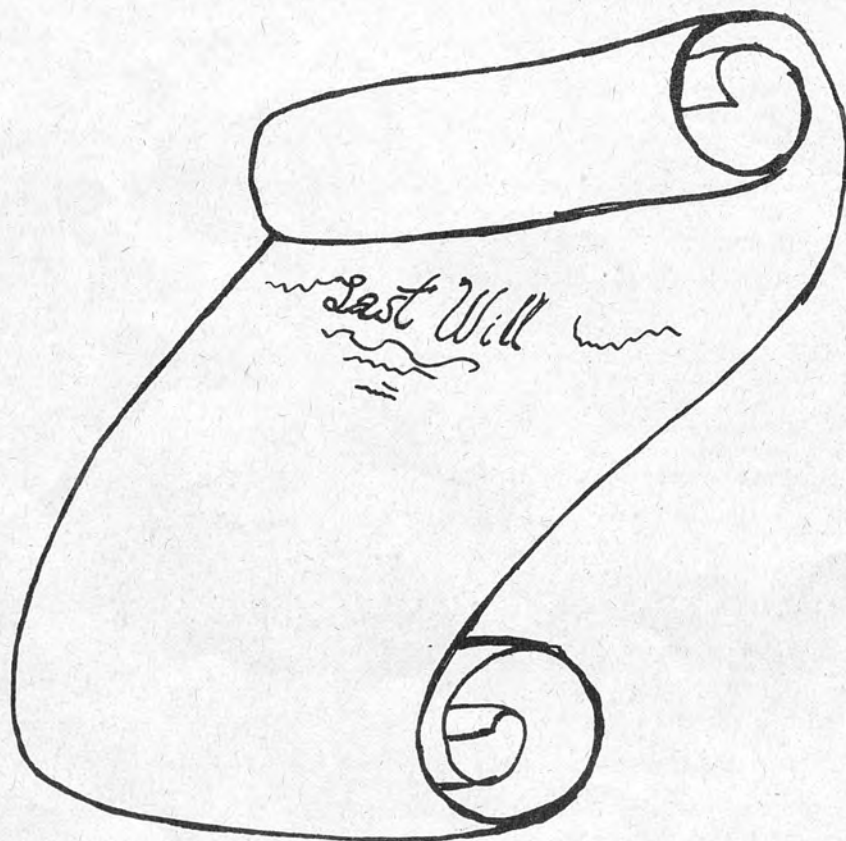

WILL

- I, Patricia Anderson, leave the boys from this and surrounding schools to their steady girl friends.
- I, Dorothy Balsmeider, leave my coyness and tiny figure to Donna Tofson
- I, Donald Beghin, leave my Atlas build to Kenny Martiny.
- I, Gloria Bixby, leave my ability to catch and keep a man to Joan Ringdahl.
- I, Walter Christensen, leave my comic books to Gerald Riese, to add to his collection.
- I, Beverly Counsell, leave my old return bus tickets from Baraboo to anyone who isn't fortunate enough to get a ride back.
- I, Helen Crothers, leave my fickleness to Lucille Baggot.
- I, Ethel Durfey, leave my ability to catch soldiers to Beverly Avery.
- I, Bennett Dyer, leave my ability to roll my own to "Gremlin."
- I, Elaine Ebert, leave my slender waist line to Mae Wharry.
- I, Opal Grace Edgeworth, leave my morals to the Erickson twins.
- I, Marilyn Emmerich, leave my studious initiative to Bob Playman.
- I, Wilbur Fritz, leave my reputation of being a good necker to Mouse Kaiser.
- I, Eugene Gavinski, leave my bookkeeping to anyone who wants to fill it in.
- I, Robert Gavinski, leave my dislike of women to Bob Peterson.
- I, Margaret Griffin, leave my locks and curls to Patsy Cahoon.
- I, Byron Hacker, leave Lucille, with a slug waiting for the first guy who speaks to her.
- I, Donald Hamm, leave my ability to boss the office girl to whoever thinks they can get away with it.
- I, Joan Johnson, leave my baton twirling expertness to Delores Playman and Barbara Crist--- let them fight!!
- I, Joe Kaiser, leave my hours of cornet practice to Tommy Thompson.
- I, Alice Kaleas, leave my quite manner to Alice Hetzel.
- I, Dennis Kelly, leave and I'm hoping I don't have to return next fall.
- I, Dale Kimball, leave---THANK GOD!!
- I, Mary Lambert, leave my erect posture to Beverly Morse.
- I, Margaret Lowe, leave my reducing abilities to Mary Claire Baggot.
- I, Phyllis Lunde, leave--but wish I could take a post grad course.
- I, James Morton, leave a bag of peanuts under my study hall desk.
- I, Eileen Murray, leave my ability to win friends and influence people to Henry Smukal.

Continued----

- I, Lloyd Palmer, leave my graceful stride to Alice Leege.
- I, William Priester, leave my romantic tenor voice to Dick Tucker.
- I, Betty Retzlaff, leave my good (??) reputation to Ruth Wagner.
- I, Marion Sarrington, leave my ability to have fun but still keep my good reputation to Helen Ragan.
- I, James Stephan, leave my ability to model airplanes to the next air minded generation.
- I, Helen Tangney, leave my job at the drug store to join the women's branch of the Merchant Marine.
- I, Violet Taylor, leave my crown to whoever can run fast enough to catch the next king.
- I, Mildred Timm, leave my ability to drive a car to Jim Baggot, if he can drive like I do without being picked up.
- I, Helen Utter, leave myself to anyone who wants me, but let's not get rough.
- I, Mildred Wharry, leave my naturally curly hair and a bottle of wave set to Jim Flickner.
- I, Jo Ann Waltman, leave---AGAIN!!

PROPHECY

Pat Anderson has at last realized her life long ambition and is a missionary in South Africa. She has been teaching the natives how to whistle. What's the matter Pat, just keeping in practice?

Have you noticed how smoothly Rockefeller Center has been running recently? Our own Dorothy Balsmieder is secretary to John D. I wonder if that could be the reason.

Don Beghin has finally become a doctor. He specializes in love sick women.

Gloria and the "Admiral" are settled in Milwaukee. She is convinced that Jr. must go through college.

Walter Christensen is still farming it alone. He is saving his money for something but won't tell us who she is.

Beverly Counsell is still singing on station B-I-L-L. The program is sponsored by Whitney's, the makers of tomb stones and babies' breakfast foods.

Helen Crothers is still running around single. She says, "Why work when you can sell a diamond whenever you get short."

Ethel Durfey is still with the White Creek gang touring army camps.

Bennett Dyer is running a "soft drink" joint for minors only.

Elaine Ebert is now head nurse at the McFarland Hospital.

Opal Edgeworth is devoting her life to traveling through-out the country talking for the Temperance Union.

Marilyn Emmerick has been promised the position of secretary to the president regardless of which party wins.

Wilbur Fritz is prospering on his farm but he can't figure out why secretaries don't like to live on farms.

Margaret Griffin is now proprietor of the White Creek Dance Pavillion.

Bob Gavinski is still in the Merchant Marines. He says that's the best way to see the world and all that is in it.

Pete Gavinski is earning a nice living for himself and family by teaching bookkeeping in Springfield, Illinois.

Don Hamm has recently divorced his fifth wife and looking hard for the sixth. If at first you don't succeed-----.

Buck Hacker is still playing with the Delton Dodgers. He is planning on starting a coke plant when he gets too old for professional football.

Joan Johnson spent two years studying occupational therapy but before she finished, she decided she'd rather have one big occupation and a couple little ones of her own.

Joe Kaiser, the Casinova of the Class of '45, has at last been heard from. Kaiser has replaced Harry James on the radio, but who will replace Grable in the home----well Joe?

Alice Kaleas is playing the leading role in "What People Don't Know Won't Hurt Them Any."

Denny Kelly is now the heavyweight champion of the world.

Listen friends over station V-O-I-C-E to hear the swooner crooner of the century: that's right, It's Dale Kimball.

Professor Mary Lambert can still be found among the tubes and foaming acids in a strictly he-man college.

Margaret Lowe is now living nicely on the money taken in from her recent best seller, "How To Flirt With and Catch A Man In Ten Easy Lessons."

Continued---

Phyllis Lunde is living over by Delton now. She has at last found her one and only. Of course she has thought this many times before, but it looks like this is the real thing.

In the campaign, Morton versus Priester Jim's slogan is "All the Home Brew You Can Drink."

Dorothy Thompson now has a new rival on the air. Eileen Murray has become a famous news annalist and has made the Class of '45 very proud.

We have at last found a double talker to replace Danny Kaye. Corky Palmer fits into his shoes perfectly.

Bill Priester is now running as Republican candidate for presidency for the sixth time. He says as long as Dewey didn't make it, he'll carry on in his place.

Betty Retzlaff has decided that of all the places in Wisconsin, Kohler is the coziest. They plan to make their home there.

Marion Sarrington has fallen heir to a "green" Buick so she is touring the country. The first stop will be Galesburg and then McNeil Island.

Jimmy Stephens is now the successful proprietor of the Balovan and Katts Theater in Chicago. Congratulations Jim.

Helen Tangney and Eleanor have jointly published "How To Lose Friends and Influence People". Helen influences people and collects on the lost friends. (This makes five divorces.)

Violet Taylor decided she did enough running around in high school so she has settled down and is now spending most of her time in the home.

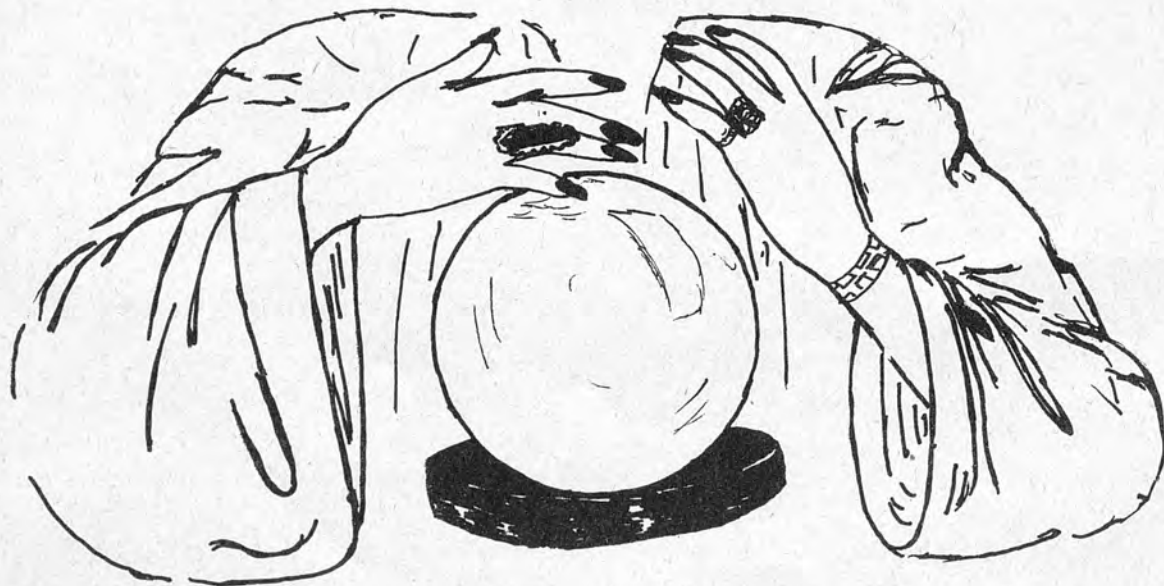

Millie Timm is principal of the best managed high school in the state. She tells every student the thing she believes, "If you aren't smart enough to cheat and get by with it, that's your tough luck."

Helen Utter is now writing jokes for the Esquire magazine.

Jo Anne Waltman is again living in Reedsburg. She has discovered the man situation is better there.

Millie Wharry's pretty fingernails come in handy. She now advertises the new "Dutchie's Never Chip" nail polish.

Pat Wagner is now exclusive model for the Ye Flashy Duds Shoppe in New York.

Above you see pictured our venerable Junior class. Without any comments from this reporter you can see our many good points. Look at that intelligence, that beauty, that grace, that charm, that blank look.

You certainly cannot doubt the veracity of this merely on the grounds that I am a Junior and, therefore, my opinion is biased. For being a Junior, I am able, as all Juniors are, to think clearly on a subject without allowing my thinking to be affected by prejudices. With this off my chest I feel free to say that the above pictured Juniors are, by far, the most capable and most intelligent class in school. I am sure that I can obtain the support of our class on these points. Not wishing to dilate further I will mention, in closing, that although our class is not entirely composed of geniuses, as I may have led you to believe, it is on the whole a well balanced and capable class.

SOPHOMORES

We, the Sophomores, are thankful for this opportunity to bring our class into focus as the "shining light" of the school.

Our class is different! (And that, I fear, is a rash understatement.) We have the model and the unmodel student. The worker and the slacker--the sportsman and the wallflower. We have brains and brawn--wits and otherwise. There are a few with a sense of humor--and fewer with sense. Such a class, I'm sure, has never before and will never again be boasted by our school.

These wonderful (at any rate unusual) characteristics--along with the good start we already have--lead only to the fact that we, the Sophomores, are undeniably an outstanding class.

FRESHMEN

We are the class of '48,
 The one class in school that can't concentrate;
 School's so exciting to us our first year
 Knowledge goes over our head or just in one ear.

Like all other freshmen we are silly and green,
 As hopeless a bunch as the Dells High has seen.
 We ask thousands of questions and get lost here and there,
 But our spirits and noses are still up in the air.

We don't really like classes,
 But take them all with a smile,
 For men like Siewert and Holden
 Make our efforts worth while.

We admire upper classmen
 Their school spirit and all;
 And just hope to be like them
 When we're Sophomores next fall.

MOTTOES

- Pat Anderson Oh yes, a sailor would do.
- Dorothy Balsmieder So simple and quiet and small.
- Don Beghin They go wild, simply wild, over me.
- Gloria Bixby I've got gobs of love for the Navy.
- Walter Christensen I like to go deer hunting.
- Beverly Counsell There goes that song again.
- Helen Crothers I was as pure as snow but I drifted.
- Ethel Durfey Don't fence me in; first turn me loose.
- Bennet Dyer Show me the way to go home.
- Elaine Ebert Men are the least of my worries.
- Opal Edgeworth Don't tell me those stories.
- Marilyn Emmerick Ideals are funny; they don't work unless you do.
- Wilbur Fritz I'm smart--in some things.
- Margaret Griffin Variety is the spice of life.
- Bob Gavinski Never touch the stuff.
- Pete Gavinski I enjoy a good laugh.
- Don Hamm It'll be a change when I have to buy pink slips.
- Buck Hacker Champ of the gridiron.
- Joan Johnson Always handy if you need any help with poetry or mottoes.
- Joe Kaiser I don't mind taking care of the girls while Uncle Sam takes care of their men.
- Alice Kaleas You don't get in trouble if you mind your own business.
- Dale Kimball Mark my word but don't blame me if it's wrong.
- Mary Lambert She's not always as bashful as she seems.
- Margaret Lowe Oh! a uniform.
- Phyllis Lunde They're Neither Too Young Nor Too Old.
- Jim Morton Yeah for the Democrats and Irishmen.
- Eileen Murray Always works hard; always on the level.
- Lloyd Palmer Easy does it.
- Bill Priester All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy--but I don't worry.
- Betty Retzlaff Does your cigarette taste different lately?
- Marion Sarrington Who's worrying about the man shortage---besides me?
- Jim Stephen Early to bed and early to rise.

Continued---

Helen Tangney Sweet and lovely-Oh brother!

Violet Taylor Love 'em and leave 'em.

Millie Timm When my conscience tries to speak, the line is usually busy.

Helen Utter Did you hear the one about the-----.

Jo Anne Waltman Oh, Reedsburg is alright.

Millie Wharry It pays to always (???) be quiet.
