When Memories
Fail Us,
Our Yearbook Always Remains—

Ever a Part
Of Our Lives.

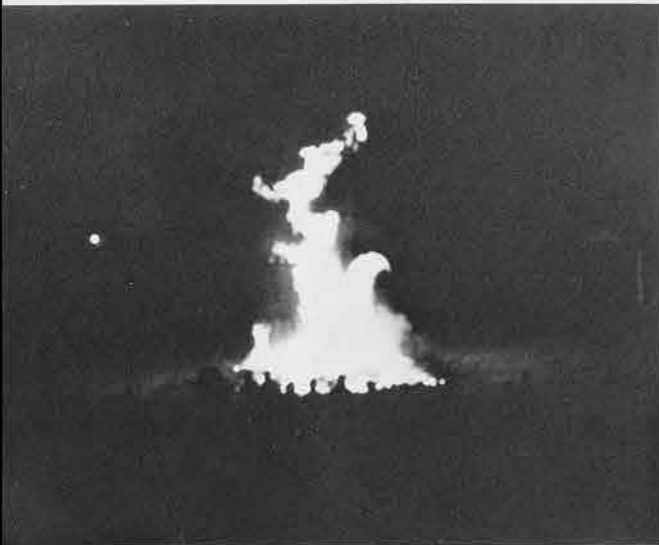

Some things in life never seem to change. They remain, instead, the same—never varying. On the other hand, most things we encounter in our time change constantly; they were meant to change. People change, as time changes. Yet one rainy afternoon I discovered something that has remained the same through many years—my mom's old yearbook.

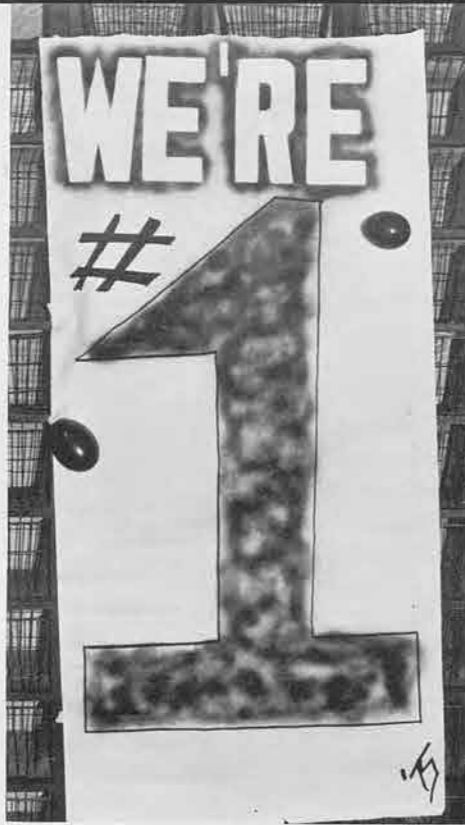

I settled myself down in the dusty attic, my curiosity aroused. Flipping the yellowed pages, I became instantly transformed. From Elton and B.T.O., to Chubby Checker. From farmer jeans and platforms back to bobbysocks and angora sweaters.

Captured before me was time already spent and gone by. Time, so precious and dear to us all, can never be relived. Once it happens, a moment is gone, gone forever. Only the memories that each of us possess still remain. Yet I realized then, sitting amidst someone else's past, there IS something that brings time to a standstill; when memories fail us as we look back on a phase of our own life to remember the good times.

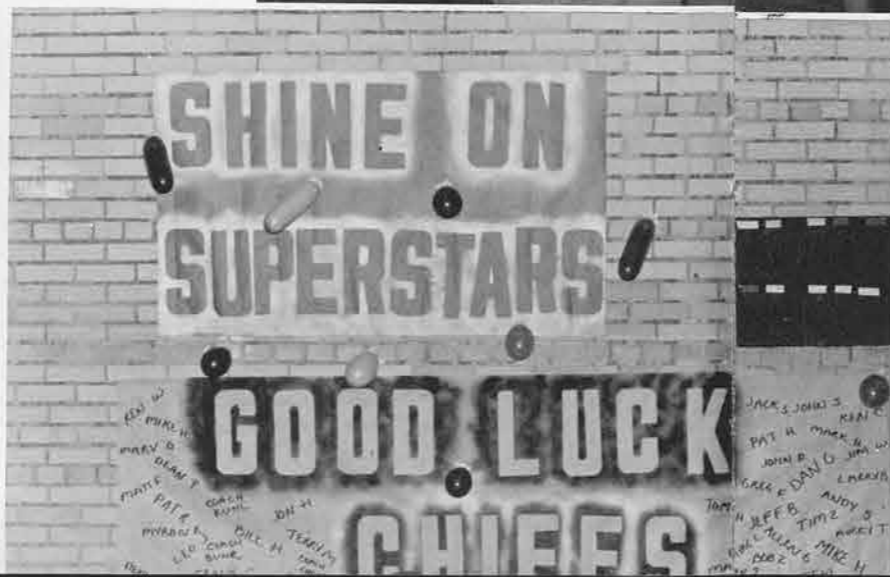

For when Elton and Anka are gone from us, when our favorite jeans have long been discarded, our yearbook remains, every picture telling a story about a moment in my life.

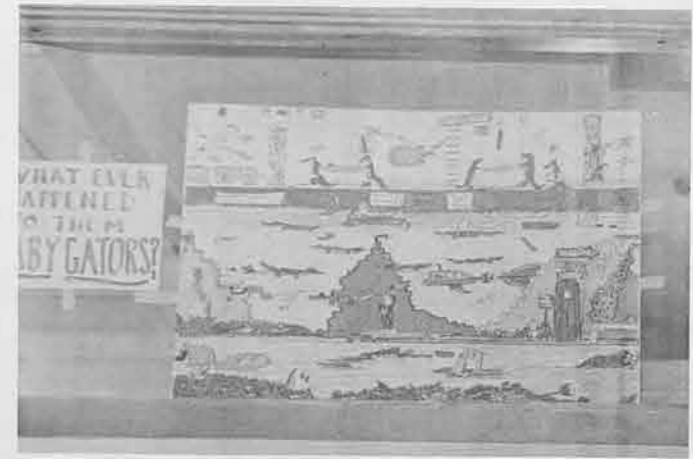

Our visions are young,
 but our minds have begun
 that transition to maturity.
 We approach the days
 with confidence,
 for we are certain that we can take it from here;
 with a smile, some laughter,
 a thought;
 making the day a symbol of a lifetime.
 with all that has been given us,
 we know there are no limits but our own.

*United We Stand, Divided We Fall,
 and if our backs should ever be against the wall will be Together" —
 because of God's Gift of Love, "Together you + me"*

Time is running out, I'm trying to catch it, where is it going?

Time keeps moving on, out without me,
it passes by, and I wish I could take hold.
It scares me, how time keeps going,
leaving me behind.

Photographs and Memories—Lasting Reminders of the Final Year

The Senior class reaped in many honors during the Homecoming festivities. At the pep assembly, the class showed its spirit by winning the competition singing of the Alma Mater, and also by taking first place in the skit contest. Senior girls dressed up as little girls put together a puzzle for the Homecoming victory; the missing piece supplied by the Chief fans. The powderpuff football game played between Junior and Senior girls ended in a 18-18 deadlock.

With the slogan, "Exorcise that Warrior Spirit", the Seniors won the float contest with a take-off on "The Exorcist".

The class voted in the revolutionary idea of having both Columbia blue and white gowns at commencement.

Through many long months of work, the Junior class was able to raise a substantial amount of money to put toward the Junior Prom. Bake sales, concession stands during home basketball games and wrestling matches, and a magazine sale yielded the necessary funds.

The class placed third in the Homecoming float and skit competition. Juniors were awarded first place in the Christmas bulletin board contest.

The Sophomore class began the year with the Sadie Hawkins dance. Fred Fortner, disc jockey at WYXE radio station, entertained at one other dance.

"We're Snoopin' for a Victory", was the slogan for the Homecoming float which took second place. Bill Delmore and Matt Playman led the Sophomore Homecoming skit, "The Spirit of Homecoming", to a second place finish in fourth place.

Many Sophomores thought that class spirit was down a bit this year; Dave Rihn commented, "I think everybody should get involved in some activity. Make school life more bearable by taking your mind off homework and other school pressures."

The Freshmen quickly upped their treasury with three bake-sales and two dances. The first year class won third place in the Christmas bulletin board contest. During Homecoming festivities, freshmen placed fourth in their skit, a take-off on M*A*S*H, but entered no float.

Pep Club

Backing the Chiefs Through Signs, Spirit and Soul

Pep Club is a group of girls who make run-throughs and signs to raise the spirit of the players and the fans. Traditionally they make signs for Football, Basketball, and Wrestling; this year Presidents Linda Shanks and Chris Tallard decided that all the sports should be recognized, so Pep Club also made signs for Volleyball and Cross Country.

For Homecoming the Senior members and the cheerleaders decorated the houses of the Football players early in the morning and later had breakfast at the home of Mr. Arneson their advisor.

Monday Night Workouts Result in Fun

Screams of joy and groans of distress fill the gym every Monday evening, as girls share in the fun, teamwork, and sportsmanship of Girls Athletic Association. Teams vie for championships in volleyball, basketball and badminton.

Maureen Honish heads the officers as President of G.A.A.; Theresa Golz is Point Secretary, and Theresa Horn, Debbie Obois and Michelle Hilliard are Sportsheads.

Early in May, at the conclusion of G.A.A., the girls hold a banquet. At this time advisor Ellen Mahlke distributes trophies, chevrons and pins earned throughout the year.

Miss Mahlke commented on G.A.A. saying, "I feel that G.A.A. is a very worthwhile recreational activity in which girls come and compete with other girls of their own caliber."

Chess Club

"J'adoubes" (adjusts) For Increased Activities

The Chess Club, under the guidance of Mr. Hynum, engaged in more activities than in the past. In December, the club sent both a Varsity and a Junior Varsity team of five members each to Ripon to compete in an interschool chess tournament. Later on in the year a tournament among the club members themselves was held. A trophy was awarded the first place winner, with the second and third place winners awarded medals.

The club held regular meetings during the year in the library where Mr. Hynum taught chess moves and rules. A chart was kept indicating the averages of wins, losses, and ties for each member.

There are three squads of cheerleaders at W.D.H.S. Football cheerleaders were a combination of the basketball and wrestling squads. Their spirit raising activities included individual locker signs on the days of games and decorating the team locker room for Homecoming.

Wrestling cheerleaders began their season with new skirts and red/white letters for their sweaters. Connie Palmer, this year's captain, stated that they have learned many new sit-down and floor cheers, including Kung-Fu, Boogaloo and a Shaft routine. They practice 5 hours a week and decorate Varsity wrestlers and coaches lockers.

Basketball cheerleaders attended an Eau Claire cheering camp at the beginning of the basketball season. Locker signs for Varsity players and coaches kept them busy.

1975 Arrow Staff

Recording the Events of a Year for All to Remember

A ▲

Preparation for the 1975 Arrow began in the spring of 1974, even before the arrival of the 1974 annual. During the summer, Editor Lisa Westerfeldt spent two weeks at an Eau Claire yearbook workshop learning the ropes in preparation for the coming school year. Deadlines and long hours of work faced the staff from September to February 14th, the final deadline for the completed book.

To help protect from getting the crazies (an occupational hazard) in a seven by twelve room, a "window", and Elton John, the staff's mascot, were added along with other interior decorations.

The Yearbook staff raised money to help meet expenses by selling popcorn and selling leftover pictures at the end of the year.

Many thanks of gratitude and appreciation are extended to the 1975 Arrow staff.

Life and Problems of Yesterday and Today Studied by All

At WDHS, three years of Social Studies are required before graduation. Freshmen must take either Social Studies with Mr. Horn or Humanities with Mr. Park. At the Junior level, a student studies U.S. History with Mr. Lake. Mr. Lewison supplies Seniors with an education in Social Problems.

To aid Seniors in Mr. Lewison's class this year is a new micro-fiche projector which is used in vocational and occupational study. Social Problems students are also given the opportunity to meet and talk firsthand with local and state personalities through classroom interviews. The second semester was dedicated to the study of machinery, tractors and building maintenance.

New equipment includes a Ford 3000 Diesel Tractor Train and miscellaneous small tools. The Ag room and shop also underwent remodeling. Dells Captures SCC Crown

The highlight of the 1974 track season had to be the winning of the Conference title at Sauk-Prairie. Along with this victory, however, came two heartbreaking defeats: a loss to Sauk-Prairie for the Regional title, and a loss to arch rival Baraboo in the Baraboo Relays. The mighty Chiefs also came away with a Sectional runner-up spot.

The Conference meet was highlighted by firsts from: Mike Larkin in the 100 yard dash; Fran Sweeney in the high and low hurdles; John Hamm in the 220 yard dash; Paul Olson in the high jump; and the 880 yard relay, consisting of Hamm, Larkin, Olson, and Sweeney. Hamm, in the 100 yard dash, and the mile relay team of Olson, Jon Green, Kurt Peters, and Lance Tallmadge brought home seconds. The Dells got thirds from Larkin in the 220, and Olson in the long jump, plus a fourth from Peters in the 440 yard dash.

Paul Olson was elected captain for 1974, and Fran Sweeney was named most valuable player.

Girls Track

Sprints Toward Improved Season

The 1973 Track Season found the Girl's Team up against stiff competition and left them standing with a two win and six loss record.

The female tracksters competed in dual and triple meets throughout the season, with an impressive win coming over Black River Falls.

Despite the failing record, Laurie Borkowski commented that "I enjoy the competition and the feeling that you get when you put your full effort into something. Every year we are improving and our spirit is great."

Dells "Tees Off" to a Rough Season

The 1974 season began with a three day pre-season practice at Cog Hill in Chicago.

The team's only placement was in the Conference Dual Meet at Dell View in which the Dells took eighth place. Mark Ahlstrom led the golfers with top score at 84. Ahlstrom also medaled in the Dells-Adams Meet.

With veterans Mark Ahlstrom, Marc Playman, Taras Skibicky and Bob Zamzow leading the squad, the 1975 Golf Season outlook is rather optimistic, despite tough competition.

Comments concerning Coach Wendall Arneson were very favorable as Letter-winner Marc Playman stated that he felt "Coach Arneson is one of the best player coaches in the Conference. He is well qualified for his position."

"A season of ups and downs." That was how Coach Dale Maher characterized the 1974 baseball season.

Captains Tom Tofson and Dave Corning steered the Chiefs to a 5 win and 7 loss record. Corning also led the team in hits with a .400 average.

Bob Johnson was named most Valuable Player and Jeff Buss took the title as most Improved Player. Mike Heitman and Steve Holzem were named most Valuable Players for the J.V. team. Holzem was also the most Improved Player for Junior Varsity.

Letter winners included Bob Hudack, Noel Mattei, Greg Arendsee, Jeff Buss, and Mike Heitman.

The "nucleus" of the 1975 team is to be built around returning senior letter winners Hudack, Mattei, and Arendsee for the 1975 season.

Girls' Basketball

Cross Country

Competitive girl's basketball was a new and welcome addition to the female athletic program. The girls learned to savor the many tastes of competition; the tastes that only boy athletes used to know. With every game came more experience and further knowledge of the game. The team will inevitably mature even further in the years to come.

THREE-IN-A-ROW!!

Resume of the 1974 Football Season:

Adams: Only leading 14-13 at half, the Chiefs put it together in the second half and outscored them 19-0 for their first victory.

Baraboo: Sweet victory over the T-Birds. Chiefs were fired up and stopped Baraboo's running attack to a -6 yards. Led by hard running Bob Hudack and defensive standout Matt Foster.

Mauston: Down a little, the Chiefs offense sputtered a bit, but came through over the Eagles with a 26-0 victory. Standouts were Hudack and Marv Grefe.

Sparta: Undefeated, the Chiefs struck early for 2 TD's in the first half and held for their fourth win in a row.

Tomah: This was an especially sweet victory for the Chiefs; beaten two years in a row by the Indians, the Chiefs scored 2 TD's in the second half to withstand Tomah 14-0.

Sauk Prairie: Going into the Sauk game both teams were undefeated. Trailing 9-7 in the final quarter, the Blue Machine struck for 2 TD's to win 21-7 and remain the only undefeated team in the S.C.C.

Portage: Homecoming '75 was just one more victory for the high-flying machine as they drew a 34-7 win over the Warriors.

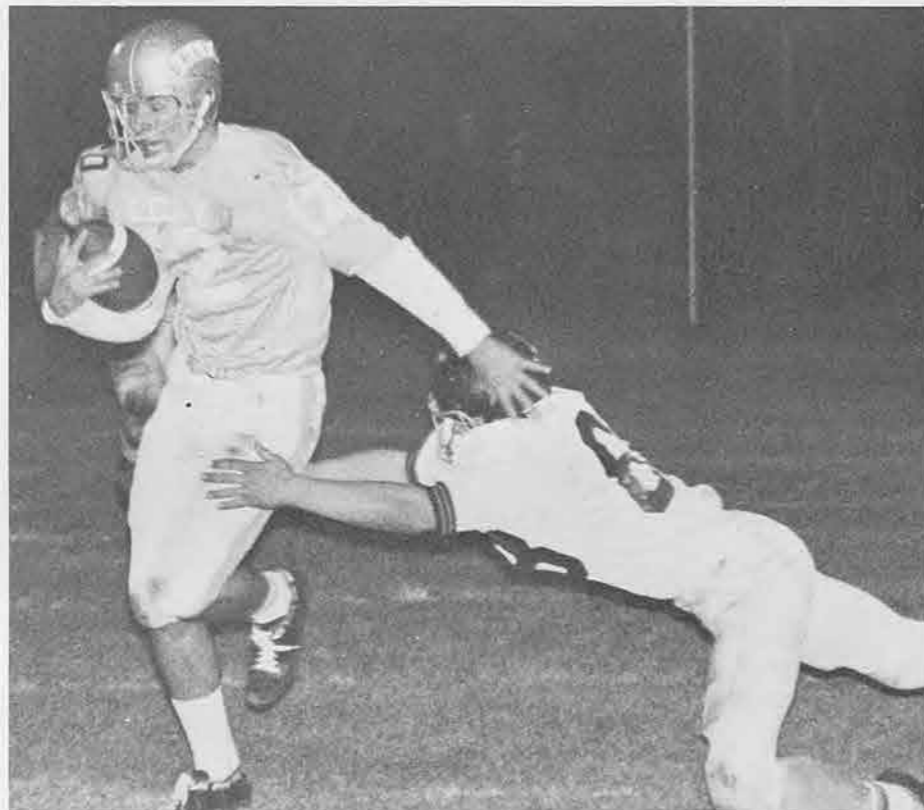

Reedsburg: This was a heartbreaker for the Chiefs. It was the first overtime game of the year; with regulation time ended and the score 14-14, the Chiefs met defeat in their first loss of the year.

Black River Falls: Knowing what had to be done the Chiefs went to work. Leading 19-0 at halftime against Black River, the Blue Machine coasted in with a 33-14 win.

Sparta's win over Reedsburg enabled the Chiefs to gain sole possession of the S.C.C. title.

Frosh Wrestling Team Learns Fundamentals

The freshman wrestling team coached by Gary Buhr ended up with one win and eight losses. The main reason for the lack of wins was the limited number of wrestlers. This Chieftan squad brought home the Marshfield Invitational Tournament trophy and kept the Dells Invitational trophy. They beat Portage for the first time in Dells wrestling history and defeated top-ranked, non-conference Marshall in a tough match. Dells wrestling chiefs also attended the Stevens Point triple-dual meet. Wis. Prom 1974

An Evening in Lost Horizon

As if in a fairy tale, overnight the gymnasium was transformed into a garden of "Shangri-La". Cherry blossoms and various pine filled the center of the gym; garden furniture, potted flowers, and pastel colors combined with the fresh flower aroma to convince couples that they were really in "Lost Horizon".

Work on the Junior Prom began early in December; enthusiasm and class participation developed a prom different from those of the past. The Prom was minus a fountain and traditional bridge. But a new decorative device was incorporated, a mirrored ceiling ball which added color and scattered light to the dance.

Couples were entertained by "Libertine Rock" from Milwaukee. After feasting at nearby restaurants, couples had the opportunity to attend a post-Prom dance at the Chula Vista, sponsored by the Lake Delton Lions.

Homecoming 1974

Seniors Work Together to Make Best Homecoming Ever

Festivities for the 1974 Homecoming began Thursday night with a Snake Dance winding through the downtown streets. The procession ended at the Athletic field where cheerleaders aroused the spirit of the crowd. With a bonfire ablaze speeches were given by Captains Matt Foster and Jerry Sobojinski, Jeff Buss, graduate Don Hacker, and Coach Kuhl also added a few words.

Friday afternoon students were entertained with skits from each class, and competition singing of the Alma Mater. It was then announced that the Seniors had won the skit and float competition along with the singing. A parade featuring floats, football players and Homecoming representatives followed the school activities.

The spotlight centered on the football game Friday night as the Chiefs faced the Portage Warriors. Victory was sweet as the Mighty Chiefs overcame their opponents 34-7.

The hard-working staff of the 1975 Arrow hopes you will treasure this book for all it represents to each of us, individually. We have done our best to give you maximum coverage of the year and its moments by using many more pictures and also by creating a bit different, modern format which will hopefully distinguish this book, the '75 Arrow, from any other.

To all who contributed to the making of the 1975 Arrow, much appreciation is extended. Thank-you to the staff for volunteering time and talents, to Mr. Ed Wojnicz for his much-needed assistance, to Dells Events for various pictures, Mr. John Trumble for group shots, Mr. Robert Kruse for his friendship to the students and many, many pictures, to the faculty, administration, school board, and especially the students of WDHS in 74-75. A special thank-you to the excellent instructors at the Eau Claire Yearbook Workshop for their enormous contributions of knowledge and inspiration.

Finally, remember: When memories fail us, our yearbook remains—ever a part of our lives.
