1979 HOMECOMING HIGHLIGHTS

Homecoming! The magical event that brings excitement, class spirit, and captivates memories. At the opening of the school year, October 5 seemed far away; then suddenly it was upon us. The days before Homecoming were hecticly spent selecting the queen, finishing floats and building up school spirit.

The week of Homecoming, traditionally entitled "Spirit Week," held special meaning this year as WDHS classes participated in various activities. Starting the week off, students backed their respective classes by donning overalls. This was followed by jersey day on Tuesday.

Midway through spirit week, WDHS students couldn't tell whether many of their classmates were coming or going as they viewed clothes worn backwards, a new dimension of the week's competition. Thursday, ruled by tradition, was blue and white day, which featured students wearing colors of our Alma Mater. On Friday, students received approving glances, especially from faculty members, as the students dressed up in their Sunday best.

Spirit peaked to an all time high Friday afternoon during the annual Homecoming pep assembly. Led by the cheerleaders, the classes participated in various competitions in pyramid building, cheering, and gunnysack races. Following the tearful singing of the Alma Mater, points were tallied for the past week's activities and the end result was a victory by the Seniors.

During the powderpuff game, Senior girls found tough competition in the Junior girls, but still managed to slide by to an 8-0 win. The climax of Homecoming came with the football game when the Dells Chiefs shut out Sparta with a 17-0 win.

The Friday night victory carried over to Saturday evening elegance as Queen Mary Statz and King Toby Thompson reigned over the annual Homecoming dance.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

"Now kitty ,if you'll sit up and attend, I'll tell you all about looking glass world."

With these words, Alice led her audience into a make believe world where everything is backwards. Under the direction of Mr. Mark Susdorf, the spring production of "Through the Looking Glass" went smoothly. The play was presented for two evenings with one Sunday afternoon matinee.

As the play opens, Alice, played by Barb Riggs, falls asleep and the greater part of the play is the story of the dream she has of a looking glass world. Reality is confused with make believe as Alice watches a fight between Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum, shares plum cake with a lion and a unicorn and helps the White Queen untangle her messy hair.

Student Director, Becky Voss, helped Mr. Susdorf and also staged some rehearsals herself. She commented, "It was a great experience and really a fun play to produce."

ON THE ROAD TO NASHVILLE

Minnie Pearl, cornbread, grits and a bit of a southern drawl were all experienced by the WDHS music students as they traveled to Nashville U.S.A. to compete in the National Music Festival.

"The groups this year worked extra hard and it really showed at the contest," stated Mr. Christoph enthusiastically. The diligent practicing of the Concert Choir paid off with a first place rating and ranking sixth out of 60 participating schools.

As the 30 hour bus trip came to a close, the Dells Fire Department escorted the busload of music students back to school with lights flashing and sirens blowing.

JUNIOR CLASS TRIP

"Welcome aboard the continuation of flight 968 Milwaukee to Baltimore service" . . . "Now if you'll look to your left." 72 slightly frightened and very excited juniors heard these statements frequently on their trip to Washington and New York.

Highlights of Washington included an evening tour of the city and a guided tour of the Capitol. The troop then left behind the cherry blossoms of D.C. and moved northeast to the Big Apple. The group saw Radio City Music Hall and took in an award winning Broadway play.

When the group departed, they said good-bye to the wonders of the east but took home memories that will last a lifetime.

1 / Prom Chairman Shelli Slayton escorted by "prom date" Mike Lake.

"Would you, er uh like to uh, go to the er, prom with me?" This question was the first step to an unforgettable evening. The Eiffel Tower, a sidewalk cafe, pink and black streamers and French maids serving punch from wine bottles were a few of the original ideas that brought the 1979 prom theme, "An Evening in Paris," off to a great success. The gym came alive with the swirling of the couples dancing to the music of "Agape." "Prom should be an evening of fantasy and romance, a special night to give us special memories to keep forever," remarked this year's Prom Chairman, Shelli Slayton.

The evening saw the crowning of Queen Lizette Hall by King Tony Mackesey. Midnight came too soon, but prom didn't end there with couples traveling to Chula Vista for Post Prom sponsored by the Lions Club and an early breakfast.

Memories go on forever, but it is a shame our "Evening in Paris" went by so quickly.

In Memory Of...

Carson Cloud
1962 — 1979

Even though they may not always be personal friends, it is always a sad event when a fellow classmate passes away. There is no replacing him, be a friend, brother, or a mere acquaintance. This year we mourn for a Wisconsin Dells student; shaken by the fact that he was so young, and that his death was so sudden and seemingly futile. Despite this, we must recall the fact that in life as well as in death, "Nature's forces are as many as the blades of grass that carpet the earth . . ."

The cheer "Juniors, Juniors don't be shy . . ." definitely depicts the class of '81. They have spent many long hours working on Prom, surpassed their goal in magazine sales, and have achieved a measure of success in scholastics and athletics.

Although the juniors are still a year away from their goal of graduation, they will be remembered as being a very outgoing class.

2 Down . . . 2 to Go

Gone were the days of anxiety, uncertainty, and fear, for as sophomores, the class of 1982 held the voice of experience.

The new idea of cheese and sausage sales, along with numerous bake sales and dances, enabled the sophomores to sponsor the annual Sadie Hawkins dance in January.

The year for the sophomores brought a growing awareness of others as shown by the purchase of a letterjacket for one of their classmates, Sharon Johnson.

The eventful year came to a close through the ordering of class rings and the acquiring of drivers licenses.

The class of '83 can look back on their first year of high school with some fond memories. Their many accomplishments were a result of great leadership and the ability to work together as a class.

The freshmen added a new dimension to WDHS pep assemblies. They displayed bravery when confronted by the cheerleaders for competition cheering. Because of their enduring enthusiasm, the class placed second in spirit week activities held prior to Homecoming. Freshmen were also active in putting on sponsored dances and bake sales.

SENIORS

The Class With Class

There is not enough room on this page to do justice to the past four years the class of 1980 has spent together. The adventures and experiences we made cannot be grouped into a single statement, for our excursions and accomplishments were as varied and special as our unique class. Our escapades ranged from giving a New Yorker an unexpected shower from the 10th floor of the Hotel Edison, to joining hands tearfully singing the Alma Mater at our last Homecoming assembly.

Back as freshmen we believed that being a senior meant having the answers to all the questions, but now that we've reached that stage, all we have are questions for all the answers. When did we grow up? When did we make the transfer from lost and bewildered freshmen to wise and hopefully respected seniors — from dreading Mr. Laundry's "You-Two-Five" to winning the coveted orange card in Mr. Engsberg's Geometry class — or from unconcerned grade schoolers competing in spelling bees to nervous graduates preparing for A.C.T.'s and S.A.T.'s.

Look thru the pictures slowly. Take a minute to go back and relive the memories of the past four years. Now that we are finished, after we've taken that last exhausting final and have closed our lockers for one last time, are we supposed to be happy or sad? We can finally understand how the nervousness of the first day of school equals the last. With a final backward glance and an uncertain smile, we leave the halls of WDHS behind. Can you believe it, it's all over.

STAFF & ACADEMICS

ADMINISTRATION HOLDS THE SCHOOL TOGETHER

It has been our privilege to work with the Class of 1980 since they enrolled on September 7, 1976. We have watched them grow and mature from a group of young girls and boys into young ladies and gentlemen. We trust that our high school staff and administration have made a significant contribution to each student's educational, social and emotional growth during these past four years. Your accomplishments, while attending "DELLS HIGH", have been many and varied. As you leave and become a part of "the establishment", you will be charged immediately with the responsibility of helping solve some of the problems facing our nation. The complex problems of energy, our run-away inflation and the tensions that exist between people and nations around the world are but three of the immediate problems that will require your attention as you assume your respective roles as citizens in this, "the greatest country on earth". Each of you has a stake in the future of this country.

Our best wishes are extended to each of you as you graduate. We are confident that you have the ability and the resources to be equal to the task being thrust upon you. We look forward to your accomplishments with a great deal of pride and anticipation since we know that you have the capabilities to achieve greatness. We ask for God's richest blessings on each one of you. Thank you for sharing a part of your lives with us these past four years.

G. W. Reineking

The administrators of WDHS are a small efficient team, seldom appreciated until the need arises; yet they are deserving of much credit. They guide the students through their high school years by maintaining the important and critical links between the public, community, and the school.

The attendance window adds a new look to the office and gives students a chance to get their make-up cards more efficiently. New additions give our administration an extra helping hand, but the traditional old ways are constantly used and appreciated.

1/Mr. Frederick C. Reineking, high school principal.
 2/Assistant Principal Mr. Robert Larson.
 3/Secretaries Mrs. Galitz, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Ristow.
 4/Superintendent Mr. Gerald Peterson.
 5/School Board Members: Joanne O'Malley, Edward Hess, secretary, Gerda Hofmann, treasurer, Charles Thompson, president, Louis Knuth, vice-president, Harlan Wampler, Peter Tollaksen.

English

Spanish

"I hear ya!" and "Go for it!!" were two expressions often heard in the halls of WDHS this year. Communicating in today's society involves a wide range of verbal and written skills; therefore, the English /Spanish curriculum offer a variety of courses to enrich student's communicative skills.

English students are provided with a wide range of courses geared toward improving their verbal and written skills. Classes in composition, speech, drama, school publications, literature and basic reading skills are designed to give students a well-rounded practice with our daily language. In addition, translating a foreign language such as Spanish allows students to broaden their horizons and puts them in touch with another culture.

The wide variety of language courses offered at WDHS helps students become aware of the importance of self-expression in their everyday lives.

Social Studies

Social Studies at WDHS provides students with an experience to travel throughout the past and the present with reading and projects. Three years of social studies are required, and students are offered a wide range of classes.

The journey begins with freshmen starting out on the road to understanding World History. Their choice includes either History 9 or Humanities. The students' journey through time continues with their junior year in U. S. History. These classes give the chance to learn about yesterday and today through reports and research.

Social Problems is the next stop on this excursion, and students learn about government, society, and other related subjects. Through projects on vocations, speakers, and bulletin boards, the students are subjected to universal culture.

A new course offered this year, Wisconsin Studies, gives students a better background of our state and the early history of the region. Current Affairs is also a new class being introduced which centers around the current problems of today.

Science

Since the beginning of time, man has been a species filled with curiosity. He has always had a need to find out "Why". A goal of the WDHS Science Department is to allow students to further that desire in order to help them discover new insights. This year the department has the help of two new additions to it's "storehouse of knowledge": a computer and a greenhouse. Both of these items are extremely useful in enriching the science curriculum. Whether matching brains with the computer or playing doctor in the "plant hospital," science students discover many daily challenges. Electronics, ISCS, Biology, Zoology, Chemistry, Botany and Physics make up the great variety of courses offered to WDHS young "scientists."

"In math you learn techniques to solve problems. This problem solving approach helps you, not only in math, but in all other classes," stated Mr. Geyman.

Mathematics is one of the most useful and fascinating divisions of human knowledge. It helps in many important areas of study and solves some of the deepest puzzles man faces.

A new course, Constructive Geometry, has been added to the curriculum this year. Constructive geometry is based on inductive reasoning and students form conclusions based on constructions with compasses and straight edges. Other math classes available for students are Algebra II, general math, Math IV, and geometry.

Phy. Ed. Health

Getting in shape is a main objective for physical education students. Students learn new techniques and acquire skills through various activities while also getting a chance to have fun, compete, and let out frustrations.

Running and exercising are only a small portion of an average gym class at WDHS. Freshmen and sophomores meet on a regular basis to participate in such activities as volleyball, gymnastics, tennis, and softball. Juniors and seniors have the advantage to choose their own gym units. Units, which are three weeks in length, range from self defense to weight control.

Physical Education classes are only one aspect of keeping the body healthy. Another way of accomplishing this is through the health course required by all sophomore students. This course teaches the fundamentals of physical, mental, and social health, including caring for teeth, the dangers of drugs and alcohol, bandaging, first aid and CPR.

The hidden talents of many young achievers come alive in the Fine Arts Department of WDHS. A completed project and a good performance opens a new world of ideas and learning abilities for students involved in the art and music curriculum. Drawing and Painting I, II, and III develop the creative talents for the ambitious amateur and for the future artist, Studio Problems is offered for the more advanced student.

For the learning craftsmen, Jewelry and Leathercraft offer the opportunity of making useful and decorative items such as rings, necklaces, and leather goods. Students in ceramics and sculpture work with clay, molding and shaping pots, mugs and clay figures.

The Music Department allows students to express their talents vocally or through the playing of instruments. Students who have a pitch for music can demonstrate their singing abilities in Concert Choir or Girls' Glee. Band members who have a heart for Mozart or Bach can play in Symphony or Concert Band.

Ag.

Home Ec.

After 32 years a change has been made in the Agriculture Department at WDHS with Mr. Piehl replacing Mr. Weigel. Students are learning new methods and techniques in farming, agribusiness and agricultural mechanics. Much time is spent on the study of various occupations in farm related fields and gaining of practical experience in these areas.

Home economics has a class for everyone. Through year and semester courses, students can discover skills ranging from cooking to sewing and family living. Students are taking advantage of these classes and learning invaluable skills for the future as role of a homemaker or parent.

Ind. Arts

Auto Mech.

Auto Mechanics and Industrial Arts are specialized classes designed to help students deal with modern day mechanical and industrial trades.

Auto I students are introduced to small engines and become acquainted with the special tools that are used to repair these engines. Whether keeping their own car or others in running condition, Auto II students put their advanced mechanical skills to use.

In the connecting shop, industrial trades are being taught. Industrial Arts prepares students to work in woodworking, drafting, and graphic arts. Woodworking I, II, and III offer opportunities for making tables, woodblocks, and racks. Drafting teaches the architectural drawing of house plans that may be constructed. Among other things, Graphics Arts students get practice working the press, printing programs and tickets for school sports programs, plays and dances.

Business

Business Education offers practical experiences for personal or professional use. Typing and Shorthand classes enable students to improve and perfect their speed and accuracy through drill and practice. General Business students learn to shop, manage money and fill out tax returns and insurance policies. Bookkeeping is also offered to upperclassmen interested in accounting.

Students are taking advantage of the opportunities offered and improving their skills for the present future. "More students this year than ever enrolled in business classes," stated Mrs. Reifsteck.

Important programs offered at WDHS include: Alternative Education, Special Education, Learning Disabilities, Driver's Ed and Accelerated reading. These classes give students a chance to gain academic credits as well as vocational and specialized training.

Another learning program is the Baraboo Project now into its third year under the new direction of Mr. Dan Cameron. Teaching job-entry skills is one of the major goals of the program. Marketing, foods, building trades, mechanical trades, and health occupations give students technical training for future career opportunities.

Library

Guidance

The Guidance Department and library are two special services available to students during their high school years, and they aid students in their future goals.

As guidance counselors, Mr. Skarda and Mrs. Keeble advise students concerning class selection and offer counseling and career advice.

As a resource center, the library offers students access to various media of today. Mrs. Slocum assists students in gaining a better understanding of library facilities available for both research and leisure reading.

Whether college bound or job oriented, a student's understanding and use of the two resources will better prepare them for the future.

1 /Mrs. Keeble — freshman guidance; Mr. Skarda — guidance; Mrs. Slocum — head librarian.

2 /Mr. Skarda advises Chris Pihaniuk concerning her class scheduling.

3 /Mrs. Slocum designs her annual library Thanksgiving bulletin board.

4 /Mrs. Ennis — library aide; Mrs. Skarda — guidance secretary.

5 /Roger Sarafin and Bill Preissel take advantage of using the video equipment in the library.

6 /Lori Foster and Mary Kaminski page through reference books for college.

The staff which includes custodians, cooks, and transportation personnel put in many long hours of hard work before, during, and after school.

The cooks faithfully report to the kitchen every morning at 6:00 to prepare a well balanced meal for 650 students and teachers.

Handling locker problems, sweeping the halls, emptying wastebaskets, and washing blackboards are just a few of the minor jobs custodians performed each day.

The screaming students who ride the buses, the hunger stricken students at noon hour and the entire student body owe their gratitude and respect to these people who work behind the scenes. The absence of their efforts would be highly noticed.

- 1 /Laundress Mrs. Evelyn Larkin.
- 2 /Transportation Supervisor Mr. Gary Johnson.
- 3 /School's out for the day.
- 4 /Custodians Mr. Vern Nelson, Mr. Rudie Flietner, Mr. Robert Lumby and Mr. Guyle Gamble.

SPORTS

Girls . . . Bump . . . Set . . . Miss

The 1979 varsity volleyball team came short of their expectations finishing the season with a three win and twelve loss record. The girls encountered hard competition, but learned valuable playing experience with wins over Mauston and Tomah.

First year coach Sharon Wanless felt it was a trying year, but thought the team showed a striving effort throughout the season. For their outstanding work, Colleen Sullivan and Mary Schauf received Honorable Mention in South Central Conference, and Mary Schauf was elected "Most Valuable Player" of the team.

Sportsmanship, fair play and honest effort were key standards for Wisconsin Dells girls J.V. volleyball team. The season proved to be quite successful with a eight win and six loss record. The team had many returning players working together to keep spirits high.

At the fall award's assembly Coach Wanless commented, "It was the best J.V. team I had ever coached," and added that next year's team can look forward to even better results with the experience gained from the "79" season.

NETTERS NEVER GIVE UP

"With only three returning lettermen, Pat Holzem, Steve Lentz, and Mark Obois, this year was a building year," commented first year volleyball Coach Mark Susdorf. He later added, "The coaching staff tried to teach the underclassmen and first year players the fundamentals and techniques of the game." Assisting Mr. Susdorf with coaching duties was Roy England, a volunteer coach from the Junior High.

Receiving honors this year were: Captain Pat Holzem for "Most Valuable Player," Steve Lentz, "Most Improved," and a new award was given to Jamie Holmes, "Most Dedicated Player." Pat Holzem was selected as a first team All-Conference squad member. Steve Lentz received "Honorable Mention."

The Varsity ended their playing season with a 3 and 17 record.

CROSS COUNTRY . . . SEE HOW THEY RUN

Steady practicing and grueling competition marked this year's boys and girls cross country teams. "Running six miles a day was a light load," commented Coach Hoenecke. By the end of the season 350 miles had been trampled.

This year proved to be another first for the girls at WDHS as the "Harriers" were joined by the "Harriets." The sole participation of last year runner Marsha Buckminster has sparked interest among girl athletes to compete as a team.

The girls were led by "Most Valuable Runner," Judy Hess and "Most Improved Runners," Valerie Schmitz and Anne Christopherson. Terry Connors, voted "Most Valuable Runner," and Sean Bartholomew chosen "Most Improved Runner," directed the Harriers on.

"The overall program was a success despite the unusual number of injuries," commented Coach Hoenecke. The team will lose three key seniors but a strong returning squad is in the forerunning for next year.

CHIEFS CLINCH SOUTH CENTRAL TITLE

"Conference Fever" was the main goal of the WDHS Football team this year. Upon splitting the two non-conference games 1-1, the Dells was ready to move. The season opener was played against Waunakee. After Waunakee scored in the first period, the Chiefs waited until the final quarter to score and tie the game. Overtime saw the Chiefs first victory 12-6.

LaCrosse Aquinas traveled to the Dells in hopes of beating the Chiefs by close to 50 points. Even though this was the Chiefs only loss, they held LaCrosse to a score of 18-0.

The Chiefs were psyched for their first conference game against Adams-Friendship. It was the Chiefs victory, 41-20, that prompted the "fever" that was to sweep over all conference games this year.

A little first-half football was played when the Chiefs scored all 21 points prior to halftime against Portage and then took the rest of the game off with the scoreboard's final reading of 21-9.

The "Blue-Machine" traveled up to Tomah for a powerful game. After a tie score 14-14, Dave Hess kicked a 21 yard field goal and overtime was on our side again with a 17-14 victory.

Sparta came down to the Dells to challenge a powerhouse of enthusiasm. This being the Dells Homecoming game, victory was required and brought forth with an easy 17-0 shutout.

The chiefs used steady action and scoring against Mauston to become the victor with a final score of 25-6. The game against Baraboo clinched a tie for SCC with a possible championship and one game left to be played. The Chieftains scored all three touchdowns in the first half and defeated Baraboo 21-6.

In the last and deciding game against Reedsburg, the Chiefs proved that they work best under pressure. After the Chiefs exploded in the first half, 35-0, Reedsburg found that an attempt was almost impossible against such a strong willed team. One more touchdown in the second half led itself to the final score of 41-13. This caused a victory for the Chiefs, conference title, and a happy team.

Doug Reifsteck and Tim Buss were named co-captains, and Tim also took the title of "Most Valuable Player." The "Most Improved Player" went to Dave Green while the leading rusher in the conference was Tim Stowers.

The coaches felt that the season was very rewarding because we continued to improve each week. Head Coach, Fred Kuhl, felt that the only word to describe the 1979 Football season was "enjoyable."

The 1979 J.V. and Freshman teams both experienced successful campaigns. Under the guidance of Dennis Sweeney, the J.V. posted an undefeated season, reflective of the varsity.

The J.V. gridders were sparked by a victory in the championship game against Reedsburg to secure their unblemished record of 7 wins and 0 losses. With the running of Dan Stroebel and Dave Weiss, and the strong arm of Scott Beer, the J.V.'s proved they will someday be a varsity team to be reckoned with.

Gary Buhr's Freshman squad had an up and down season with a 3-3 record. "Our inconsistency hurt us, but our overall performance was good!" commented Coach Buhr.

With Randy Scott at the helm, the freshman squad beat every squad team at least once. Randy Zamzow showed some of his athletic ability by doing an excellent job of running behind a line that had great determination.

The Frosh are looking forward to next year with hopes of giving Coach Dennis Sweeney another undefeated season.

Take Downs, Reversal's and Pins Contributed to Wrestling Wins

The 1979-80 wrestling season, headed by third year Coach Wayne Stapleford, was predicted to be nothing less than spectacular. With eight returning lettermen, WDHS entered the season very confidently. They attacked the dual meets with the force that only an experienced team could handle. Tournaments were sought after and victories were brought forth.

The wrestling Chiefs had an outstanding Conference record of 7-0. A complete shut out in Conference has never been witnessed by WDHS in all of its wrestling history. The Dells came back from the South Conference tour-namment in first place: 112 - Jay Schoenbeck, 119 - Brian Cahoon, 138 - Dan Stroebel, 145 - Doug Reifsteck and 167 - Mike Julson. Reedsburg was tough competition against WDHS for the Conference trophy; however, with the final two matches going to Reedsburg, they still could not pull through with a victory. Then Chiefs won by a close score of 189½ to 188.

Being rated second in Class B state competition gave the wrestlers a goal to shoot for. After dropping to a third rating half way during the season, the Dells desire was even more evident.

Junior Varsity and Freshman basketball teams produced seasons of wins and losses as they learned more experience on the courts during the 1979-80 season.

The freshman, led by Coach Richard Tucker, continually learned the fundamentals of the game and came to appreciate the advantage of home courts.

Shooting Stars

The 1979-80 basketball season was the first in five years that the Dells has beaten their opponents by wide margins. With a flair for speed and high arching shots, the Dells cagers generated the accuracy which provided many thrilling moments on the court. Though victory was the case more than often than not, the pain of losing was always evident.

"We lost a couple of very crucial ball games, so our season wasn't as successful as the team and I had hoped," commented Coach Capelle. "We had many good moments and the seniors provided the leadership you need on the team."

The cagers ended the winter season with a 8 to 6 record.

Girls Had Higher Hopes

The girls' Chieftain basketball team began the season with many high expectations. Although "frustrating and exciting," recalls Coach Maher in summary of this year's team, several bright spots in their team skills and playing began surfacing throughout the winter sports months.

The girls were very competitive in all of their games. The Chiefs relied on team effort instead of only individual performances.

The team lost some tough games but still entertained parents and followers with some thrillers. They were lacking in shooting skills, yet their defense was rated highly in the Conference.

Many of their games ended in defeat by one and two point margins. "We never lost; we just ran out of time," was the statement Coach Maher boosted the team with after such close "would-be" victories.

"Coaching the JV's was also a rewarding experience," commented Coach Trapp, "and we're proud of the girls over 500 season record." The JV girls, as well as the varsity, went through strenuous days of practice. Despite remembered losses, the team members will have the strength and unity gained through the coaching staff and team support.

THINCLADS ON THE RIGHT TRACK

"Your heartbeat accelerates . . . the adrenaline flows . . . suddenly the gun sounds . . . your foot leaves the starting block and you take off with a brilliant burst of speed toward your ultimate goal . . . the finish line!"

Members of the Dells boy's track team experienced these emotions at each meet. Coached by Mr. Bob Johnson, the track season was highlighted by a 4th place finish at Conference, a 3rd at Regionals and Sectionals, and qualified two tracksters for the State meet.

The thinclads went through many long hours preparing for meets. Practices were successfully aimed at producing a peak performance at Conference as Gary Thundercloud captured the high hurdles championship, and Paal Myklebust was victorious in the high jump. Paal broke the school's high jump record with an outstanding 6'5" at the West Relays and again at State.

COMPETITION BUILDS EXPERIENCE

The 1979 WDHS baseball team ended their season with a 3-10 record; yet with all the frustration, the season was not without its bright moments.

The highlights of the season occurred when Tim Buss and Chris Frederiksen were picked for the All-Conference team. In addition, Chris was selected as Most Valuable Player. Tim was voted the 1979 captain and awarded the silver bat. Other award winners were freshman Scott Beer, voted as Rookie of the Year and Golden Glove winner. Dave Green was Most Improved, while Bruce Voss won the "Chief Award."

"We started out well in our first game, but after that it went downhill," said Coach Wayne Stapleford. "We have the potential, but it just hasn't shown yet."

WDHS was honored at the end of the season to have one of our players mentioned for Wisconsin's All-State Baseball Team. Tim Buss was given honorable mention for his outstanding abilities as pitcher and centerfielder and for his leadership.

GIRLS SET THE PACE

Improvement was the key word for the girl's track team. With 16 returning letterwinners, the team was coached by Mr. Hoenecke and assisted by Mr. Robert Johnson and Mr. Mark Susdorf.

Records were broken throughout the season by Lisa Olson, Judy Hess, Torrie Procknow, Markee Zamzow, and Lisa Fandrich. In addition, Torrie traveled to the state tournament competing in shotput and discus.

At the Mauston Invitational the girls placed second and ended the season placing sixth at Conference. Coach Hoenecke commented, "Our team was young, but we pursued victory."

Coach Capelle commented, "We had a very successful season, and with everybody coming back next year, we should go further than Regionals."

The Dells did have one golfer, Bob Blegen, who advanced past Sectionals to the State tournament in Green Lake. Bob led all state qualifiers with a 73 at Sectionals and placed 13th out of a field of 110 golfers.

The 1979 lettermen include: Greg Ahlstrom, Bob Blegen, Randy Blegen, Brian Cahoon and a valuable asset to the team, Pat Hintze.

The Dells had a 4-3 Conference record and then placed fourth in Sectionals.

LOVE THAT TENNIS!

"Game, set, match" was heard on the courts as the WDHS intramural tennis team was again in full swing under the new direction of Mr. Larry Black.

A round robin tournament was held to determine the champions of each of the three divisions. Winners were: beginners — Anita Leege, single's champion, and Mary Kaminski and Anita Leege, double's champions; intermediate — Brian Bauer, single's champion and Pat Jobe and Nancy Mann, double's champions; advanced — AFS student Peter Bailey, single's champion and Paula Ramsey and Roman Kuzyk, double's champions.

Coach Black commented, "We had a large turnout, and a number of players were quite skilled in the game. I feel we have enough enthusiasm and talent for tennis that the students deserve an opportunity to compete on an interscholastic basis."

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

The athletes on these pages are some of the best in their respective fields. Through hard work and dedication to their sports they have attained success and a touch of excellence. Their performances when times were critical, and their undying hope have combined to boost many sagging morales. We salute these athletes who reflect the desire and determination of Wisconsin Dells athletes.

BAND . . . MARK TIME, MOVE!

The Marching Chiefs had an exciting year under the direction of the new Dells band director, Mr. Robert Spargo. The year was highlighted by "corps-styled" marching, something new at WDHS and led by majorette Sandy Wresinski and major Don Kaufman.

Mr. Spargo commented, "This type of marching is patterned after the Drum and Bugle Corps, and we have attempted to perform one basic show to perfection."

This new style of marching, along with a new director, provided a learning experience for all Marching Chiefs. The group adjusted well and provided entertaining half-time shows.

Concert Band Has its # Sharps and ♭ Flats

Blaring brass, squeaking woodwinds and beating percussion, creating an unharmonious confusion, announce the beginning of band each day.

The students producing these sounds are members of the WDHS Concert Band. Under the new direction of Mr. Robert Spargo, this group is generally made up of freshmen and sophomores.

Throughout the year Concert Band participates in a Christmas, Mid-Winter, and Spring Concert and also performs at Contest. Along with their weekly lessons, Concert Band combines with Symphony Band to play at pep assemblies and home athletic events. They also assist Symphony Band with the annual fruit sales. This year the sophomores sold more fruit than any other class.

The Sounds of Symphony Band

A hush falls over the crowd as the Symphony Band, wearing their traditional black tuxedos, enter the competition area. A new maestro, Mr. Bob Spargo, heads the group. The audience is waiting to hear what he and his students have accomplished. He steps to the podium, raises his baton and the concert begins.

Members consist mainly of seniors and upperclassmen. The Symphony Band is an active one. The group participated in the annual district music festival and plays an important role in the yearly fruit sale.

Comprised of talented and dedicated young music makers, the Symphony Band fills the Dells area with the sound of music.

SWING CHOIR

Shrieks of enthusiasm, the striking of the band, and The Corporation twirls onto the stage beginning another performance.

Enjoyable music, excitement, and endless smiles are a tradition with the WDHS Swing Choir. Through early morning and late evening practices, the group managed to entertain civic organizations, area schools, and countless other audiences.

"With strong senior leadership, this year's group is continuing their winning ways established over the years," stated Director Mr. Christoph.

The Corporation was challenged with many Swing Choir contests and placed first in many statewide performances. Tim Gavinski received the honor of singing for "Kids from Wisconsin."

The diligent practicing of dance steps and the music proves worthwhile from the sound of applause. The applause will fade, but the memories that The Corporation holds will never be forgotten.

Concert Choir: Talents Unlimited

Their achievements ring a high note, and their voices fill the student body with inspiration. Concert Choir, through hours of practice and hard work, blend their harmonious voices to form their inspiring qualities.

Following the participation in the Nashville American Music Festival last year, Concert Choir has dedicated itself to performing with perfection. The Christmas, midwinter, and spring concerts, along with a Senior Citizen's banquet sponsored by the Lion's Club, displayed the group's ability to work as one.

ORGANIZATIONS

Pep Club

the of the Chiefs

"Rain on the Royals," "Wallop the Warriors," "Fry the T-Birds," "Axe the Eagles". These slogans and many others made by Pep club decorated the lockers of athletes and added a spark of spirit to our halls.

Pep club holds the reputation of being one of the most active organizations at WDHS. Many times they support up to three athletic events a week. Every Thursday night the two groups alternate responsibility of oiling up the "big blue machine" by making run throughs, and signs. They also organize and provide refreshments for Parents' Night.

Taking Part In Art

Students in this year's Art Club enjoyed cultural experiences in fine arts through an evening of theatre going and dining at Wilson Street East. Enrichment of the arts was also gained through Madison and Chicago museum tours.

Art Club does not require a student to be a polished actor, artist or musician; however, members must possess an interest in developing a growing awareness in drama, art and music.

Español

Spanish Club is an organization which explores the customs of Mexico and Spain outside the reach of a classroom. The purpose of Spanish Club is to promote interest in, and an understanding of the Spanish life.

Activities included an annual Christmas party and a Spanish Week sponsored and organized by the members. The aim of Spanish Week is to make students aware of the Spanish program in our school and also enjoy their customs.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

"Compared to sports records, we'd be state champions," commented Mr. Mark Susdorf, one of this year's winning State forensic team's coaches.

Thirty-five students dedicated countless hours of self-discipline and hard work competing in forensics. A new idea of breaking into two groups was carried through this year with Mr. Susdorf coaching the interpretation and performance classes while Mrs. Jo Paulson worked with the speaking classes.

Competition started after the preliminary contest at the school. At the State competition, the Dells came home with 27 A's: a truly champion season.

THE STUDENT CONNECTION

"There will be a student council meeting during second hour." From rooms throughout the school, class officers and representatives head to the cafeteria for their weekly meeting. President Greg Fedderly conducted the meetings whose topics ranged from choosing a band for the Homecoming dance to finding solutions to school problems. Advisor Mr. Maher patiently helped this year's council become active and successful.

"Everyone worked together great and I feel we really accomplished a lot," stated Fedderly enthusiastically.

As the year comes to a close, the council now breathes a sigh of relief and looks with pride at a year well done.

AFS brings people from different backgrounds together for an adventure in understanding. Throughout the years we have been visited by 20 countries ranging from New Zealand to Sweden with each student bringing something special to WDHS.

Representing our school this year in the domestic program was Debbie Dosey who spent a semester in New York. Greg Fedderly traveled abroad to Argentina to enjoy a new lifestyle during the 1979 summer.

We were honored to have Sean Bartholomew, a junior from Massachusetts, become our first domestic student.

Lutz Tueckmantel was the foreign exchange student visiting us from Germany. He could be seen smiling down on his friends from his 6'5" frame.

Both Sean and Lutz were involved in many WDHS activities. They have shown us new ideas and given us new friendship, for this we thank them and AFS.

There's A Mat For Every Maid

Backing the wrestling chiefs this year was a hard working, strong-willed group of girls called matmaids. Along with their annual "Pledge a pin," matmaids will be sponsoring their own banquet this year. The duties of the club are to clean mats, work and help Mr. Larson at tournaments, run concession stands for tournaments and supply statistics for the wrestling team.

In addition to helping the wrestlers, matmaids tries to promote spirit throughout the community. They sponsor a booster night where buttons and key rings are given out and also a parents night. Ellen Rasmussen, president of matmaids, has a lot more to do than run a club. She is the coordinator of all WDHS wrestling tournaments and has to take responsibility of the team managers she appoints.

Key Club: "Sharing Togetherness"

"Sharing Togetherness" was the 1979-80 theme of the Key Club International. As the year progressed, the WDHS Key Club performed and completed many service and school projects aiming towards this theme.

Through the year the Key Club held Halloween and Christmas parties at Fern Dell and the Continental Manor. The sale of advertisements for the athletic programs was a major fund raiser for the group.

Key Club continued in their second year project of answering phones and holding a dance for the proceeds to go to the Easter Seals Foundation during the local Easter Seals Telethon. Four Key Club members then traveled to Madison and presented the check over WISC-TV channel 3. For this project the club received a third place in the single service award.

Mr. Robert Larson and Mr. Dave Runde are Key Club advisors for the WDHS club which is rated as one of the most active in the state.

FCA

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a group of boys and girls who meet once a week to develop an understanding of God. Meetings are held at a members' home each week to share views concerning the Christian world with casual conversation and refreshments following the discussion.

During the year both groups were involved with various helping activities including raking leaves and putting on storm windows. In addition, the boys held a drawing for the Homecoming football as a fund raising project towards the FCA scholarship.

The newly formed girl's group went roller-skating and held a Christmas party. Also during the Christmas season, the boys and girls joined their voices in caroling throughout the community.

Advisors for FCA include Mr. Maher, Mr. Kuhl, and Mrs. Biffert.

Rodeo Club

Riders buck the odds in this year's newly formed Rodeo Club. Balance, coordination, practice and skill are all needed for competitive riding, and the events in a rodeo. Members compete in the annual Baraboo Rodeo and also the Little Britches Rodeo. All riders work together as a team, but also entertain individual events.

This year's captains are Liz Thompson, given the title "Miss High School Rodeo Queen" and Nathan Young. The money making project for the club is to train a horse each year and sell it.

During this season, the riders received letters awarding the team for their hard work. Advisor of the club, Mrs. Gaedke, says being in Rodeo Club is not just horsin' around.

FHA Creates "Home Sweet Home"

"Target Your Future" is this year's FHA theme for WDHS and clubs around the state. Members participate in career workshops and district meetings making FHA an active and helpful asset to the community.

Activities of the year consist of many service projects such as making Christmas crafts for needy families and visiting the nursing home. To finance the FHA projects, the club sponsors the operation of the concession stand at home football games.

The 15 girls in FHA enjoy their annual Christmas party and other meetings during the year.

FHA also sponsored a dance and a "Crazy Legs" contest to donate funds to Muscular Dystrophy.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

WIS. DELLS CHAPTER

FFA

"The Future Farmers of America is a national organization that stretches from the state of Alaska to Puerto Rico and from the state of Maine to Hawaii." This is a small part of the opening ceremony which is traditionally performed at the beginning of every meeting.

FFA sponsors many different programs that range from beautifying our American community to safety. The Dells chapter won awards in both these categories at the national level. Other accomplishments included a marksman's contest for the members and a popcorn sale. FFA and FHA tend the refreshment stand at all home football games.

A major goal of the FFA is to develop leadership among its members. The officers teamed up with the new advisor, Mr. Piehl, and together they had an exciting and fruitful year.

Although the annual room was almost my second home, and at times I felt like giving up, being editor of the 1980 Arrow was both a fun and unforgettable experience.

Throughout the year the staff and myself shared many decisions, late-night work nights, 'PIC' jokes, and an endless echo of laughter. My staff was like a family in the respect that we helped one another and learned to work with each other for one goal. I am very proud of them and the book we have created together. We think it is one of the best annuals WDHS has ever seen.

I would like to thank Bob and Steve Kruse for their countless pictures taken of the school body and Dells Events for donating sports pictures. But most of all I would like to thank our advisor, Mrs. Biffert. She was always there providing guidance, humor, patience and dedication.

I hope that within these pages, you will find photographs and words to help recapture the spirit of this year.

 1980 Arrow Editor
