ever patient, helpful, and understanding, I dedicate this yearbook.

The class that is about to graduate was in the Sophomore year when Mr. Loofboro came. The class has watched and heartily approved the changes he has brought about and it is proud, grateful, and hopeful -- proud that our school has been bettered; grateful to Mr. Loofboro who was the motivator; hopeful that the future will find an even better school.

With Mr. Loofboro at the helm, the class feels the future will be smooth sailing and that Wisconsin Dells High School will be as warm a memory to all its graduates as it is to the Class of '47.

Calendar - -

SEPTEMBER

- 4-Back to another year in good old W.D.H. S. Wonder if the new teachers have been warned about us yet?
- 12-Who do you think will be prom king? Class elections--It's Dave Decker.
- 20-The football season begins. Dells beats Westfield 37-6. Whewee!
- 27-Oh-h-h-h, that game! Stoughton wins 26-0. Seniors give dance to initiate Freshmen.

OCTOBER

- 1-Damn it! Lost again. This time to Richland Center 12-6.
- 11-Hurray! We beat Baraboo 7-6 in the last few minutes. Lead me a throat lozenge.
- 13-Girls play football. Result--one sprained ankle, lots of bruises. Packers and Rams are bidding furiously for their contracts.
- 17-Homecoming parade and snake dance. Fred Lowe and Joan O'Connell elected King and Queen.
- 18-What a revoltin' development this is! Portage wins 19-7. F.F.A. gives Homecoming Dance. How's your sprained ankle, by Larking, Trumble, and Wimana.

NOVEMBER

- 1-Ready!
- 2-First seniors pictures taken. Oh, NO! Say that isn't me! Manston in the first basketball game of the season. Greatest pep skit ever seen put on by the seniors.
- 22-We lose 44-22 to Mauston in the first basketball game of the season. Or maybe I'm prejudiced.
- 26-Thanksgiving band concert.
- 28-Thanksgiving! Ah--that food, that vacation, and--that indignation!

DECEMBER

- 6-Seniors vote to have Padded covers on their annuals. Dells Five beats Wisconsin High 28-27. Wow!
- 13-Christmas concert by band and A Capella Choir.
- 17-Christmas Program; one-act play and Lavin skit. Shades of Caesar turning over in his grave! Exchange of gifts. Who gave me this rattle? Vacation starts.
- 20-Christmas concert by band and A Capella Choir.
- 23-A Cappella goes caroling.
- 25-I'm crushed! I really expected to find a black convertible under the tree.
- 27-dance at the Wharf.

31-New Year's Eve. Oh-h-h those parties!
 You didn't get in until--gee, neither did I!

JANUARY

1-New Year's Day. (Ho-hum) Refuse to admit what time I got up.
 3-Oh-oh! Reedsburg wins 47-38. Dance sponsored by Annual Staff.
 6-Back to school. By gosh, where did the time go? It's almost the end of the semester.
 10-We're in a rut! Another defeat! Baraboo wins 42-29.
 15-Exemptions are posted. Do you have to take the English one? Oh, tarty seven times, huh?
 17-Will exams never end? I just know I flunked Social Problems. And we lose another game--to Portage 35-28.
 18-Pipe this card! I may still graduate!
 24-Another blow to my morale! Fort Atkinson comes out on top 15-19. Juniors sponsor dance.

FEBRUARY

20-I won't believe it! There couldn't have been this much snow ever before!
 30-115 people absent. Ain't this snow wonderful!
MARCH
 14-F. H. A. Dance.
 18-4g Banquet in Gym. Look you needle pushers, throw that soap down your own neck!

APRIL

4-Easter vacation begins.
 6-"In my Easter bonnet, with all the rain upon it".
 8-Back to the brain factory.
 11-The event--Junior Prom. Enchanted Forest
 Band uniforms have arrived.
 20-School Play "Drums of Death" given. New
 F. H. A. banquet.

MAY

1-Baraboo-Reedsburg-Dells track meet.
 2-Music Festival held at Baraboo.
 7-Field Day.
 18-Baccalaureate. Rev. Genzler gives address.
 20-Senior Banquet at Barry's. Wonderful food and we dance afterwards.
 22-Graduation exercises. Goodbye,
 School closes and thus closes a portion of the life of each senior. Wonderful High School, it's been wonderful and we won't forget.

1947 Class Song

Thanks for the memories
Of four of the grandest years
Of football songs and cheers
Of midnight toil--and burning oil
The laughter and the tears--Oh
Thank you so much.
Thanks for the memories
Of English prose and rhyme
Geometry sublime
The Latin book--the tests we took
We flunked them many a time--but
Thank you so much
Wintertime came and we skated
Played basketball, ping-pong, debated
And in between times---we dated
We did have fun--and no harm done--so
Thanks for the memories
And now before we go
We want you all to know
We won't forget--we're through and yet
We're going to miss you so
So--thank you so much.

History

U.S.S. Dells High School

Sea of Life

May 23, 1947

Dear Public,

Let me tell you about the four-year voyage just completed by the never-to-be-forgotten class of '47. In September, 1943, with Mr. Drozd and Miss Western to guide us over this roughest of seas, we embarked on what proved to be a fascinating journey. Even though many of the passengers, not being used to the sea, were extremely green, we nevertheless managed to bring ourselves immediately into the limelight by setting out on the voyage in an extremely overloaded canoe, to the extent of 83 passengers. Though this may have contributed somewhat toward rocking the school's most recent "dream-boat", we were very proud of the fact, since we had the largest crew ever to enter W.D.H.S. Not wanting to be the cause of any drastic change in the manner in which things were formerly done here, we very conventionally elected John Trumble as president, "Red" Novak, vice president, Lucille Baggot, secretary, and Norman Fedderly, treasurer. Our crew made itself notable as the four F'ers, and in our case it didn't refer strictly to lack of physical prowess, but also to our shining scholastic records. At the close of the first part of our journey, when the spade was being awarded in the traditional manner to the highest-ranking Junior, we again became famous. Guenther Schultz, a member of our crew, became the first (and undoubtedly last) person ever to receive the "hoe". This no doubt must be looked upon as a great honor.

Having thus illustriously completed the first portion of our voyage, and deciding the canoe was not capable of undergoing another, our crew joyously boarded a steadier craft on which to continue our trip---a rowboat!! With Mr. Loomis acting as chief coxswain, and our slightly diminished crew exhibiting great cooperation, we began rowing across the second sea. We were comparatively experienced seamen by this time and the sailing was much smoother. However, just as an extra precaution, Mrs. Jackman was lucky enough to be awarded the position of second advisor, seeing as how it seemed to be established that we should have two each year. (Probably that was because they wanted as many teachers happy as possible.) When the heavy-hearted sighs of the less fortunate ones who had not won the cherished positions of Sophomore advisor had died down, class elections were held. Norman Fedderly was elected president; Frank Russell, vice president; Jeannine Schultz, secretary; and Gordon Casser, treasurer.

Having safely crossed the second sea, we prepared for our third cruise only to be met with a very pleasant surprise. Since we now had reached the "upper classmen" stage, we found that this journey was to be made on a yacht---no less. With Mr. Holden and Miss Spangenberg occupying the ever-present positions of, our "two" advisors, elections were held to determine the all-important question—"Who will be prom king?". Karl Decker proved to be the answer to that question, while Mouse Kaiser was elected vice president; Jean Kelly, secretary; and Frank Russell, treasurer. The next important question, of course, was "What shall we have for a prom theme? After much discussion we chose Arabian Nights, and decided on Hal Edwards to provide the music. 'Though there was some cause for the harassed look on Mr. Holden's face a few preceding May 3, the finished product could not have been improved upon, and the prom was the most successful ever held in Wisconsin Dells High School.

The beautiful ocean liner which we boarded (along with our position of "high and mighty") to complete our voyage was truly befitting our rank. The cruise across the fourth sea seemed to be done in no time, riding in style as we were. We did manage to pass one great milestone, 'though. The established custom that we were to have two advisors each year was broken and we were entrusted into the care of only Miss Isakson. The Senior banquet was held at Berry's hotel, where we indulged freely in delicious food. Afterward we danced in lovely surroundings----decorated by our own ingenious crew. It was with none of our usual gajety that we descended the gangplank for the last time, for graduation was over, and we have now realized that after four very pleasant years of being able to share our journeys with the rest of the crew, it would not be up to each of us to start "paddling our own canoe." This four-year voyage just completed by the never-to-be-forgotten class of '47, is also a voyage the class of '47 will never forget!!

Sincerely,

A Senior of '47

We Prophecy:

We gaze into our crystal ball
Wherein our futures lie,
To see our class five years from now--
The pride of old Dells High.

Spencer Alford is the new ambassador of good will from the United States to Russia.

Lucille Baggot is running a fruit garden in California. Hmmm, what a peach!

Mary Claire Baggot is now completing her second year as a Latin teacher--at West Point.

Audrey Berry is chief architect on the magnificent new high school building being planned for the thriving metropolis of Wisconsin Dells.

Dorothy Brown is basking in the glory of her recent election as president of W.C.T.U.

Lyle Cole is still a noted connoisseur of wine and women. (Song doesn't interest him)

Viola Cole has made the King Cole Trio a quartet and is now known as Queen Cole.

Barbara Crist is now star soloist for the Grand Ol' Opry.

Ross Curry will be found in Mayo Brothers Clinic as chief surgeon. He always was a cut-up in school.

Karl Decker is now a coach. Football? Nope, instructor of checkers at Vassar.

Arlene and Imogene Dunham are employed as bookkeepers in the million-dollar enterprize of Pomper's Cartoons Inc.

Rosemarie Ebert, graduate of Dells High, has returned to Big Spring to show her learning.

Norman Fedderly just robbed the First National of $10,000. After all, young medical students can't live on love entirely!

Theo Field's latest publication has swept the country with shock. Somehow it doesn't sound natural for her to publish "Studiousness, Its Merits and Importance to Chemistry."

Clinton Fish has RINGED his DAHL, they are now living happily on his earnings as dentist.

Gordon Gasser is peddling pamphlets "How to Teach Women to Drive in Three Lessons." From all reports, he enjoys his work.

Darleen Giebel, noted for her quietness in school is now--still being quiet.

Duane Giebel is now head of the newly organized research bureau "Finding a Place in the Modern Economic World for Sandburrs."

Jack Gruman has secured a position as cashier at the Farmers and Merchants State Bank.

Beatrice Gussell has finally settled down. Well, maybe that is a pretty wild guess.

Barbara Gutzler is now, naturally--wherever you may find Dr. Fedderly.

More Prophecies

Ward Herrick is now a highly successful lawyer. Miss Johnson started him off on his career by her recommendations of his ability to arg--er--present his point of view.

Gordon Johnson's name waxed his successes. Johnson's Wax, of course.

Harold Kaiser is playing for the famous Gears. They ought to mesh after this!

Jean Kelly has a controlling interest in Gruman, Gruman, & Co.

James Lambert has been seriously overlooked as leading contender for the King of Musicians title. Wonder why?

Fred Lowe, former Dells student, is leading the U.S. Olympic track team to brilliant success.

Ethel Murray is playing the piano in a Ten-Cent Store of high class. She developed her wonderful rhythm chewing gum.

Joan O'Connell is now co-star on a big radio program. Joan and Joan. O'Connell and Davis.

Donald Platt is running for senator. On the Democratic ticket, Don?

Deloris Playman is now living in the mountains in style on the royalties she has received from her book "The Ins and Outs of Lovin' and Leavin' Em."

William Pomper has just bought his thirteenth Cadillac. He has to find some use for all the money he's raking in from his cartoons!

Doris Rasmussen was last seen banking around a sharp turn in pursuit of--well, we hope she catches him.

Virginia Rothwell has graduated from head of our annual to editor of a popular magazine, Open Road for Boys.

Frank Russell is still waiting for Bud to graduate so they can form the Russell-Gussel Bustle Corp.

Marjorie Sarrington at Hollywood is doing right well--selling pancake flour to the stars.

Beverly Sherer is getting tired of sleeping on her stomach and standing up to eat. She is recovering from her latest Rodeo.

Joanne Stephan is the newest addition to the ranks of Powers Girls. She's bought a new home with an oil furnace but she'll probably get back to Cole soon.

Belita Stokes is taking up ice skating to live up to her name. We expect a showdown between the two Belitas any day.

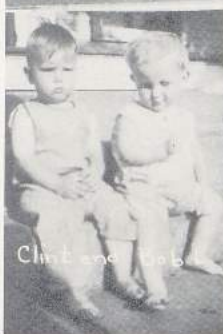

Donna Tofson changed her name recently. Your guess is as good as mine as to the lucky fellow.

John Trumble is putting the Vitalis company out of business because of his endorsement of Moose Ooze Hair Dressing. It's now a sellout.

Curtis and Gordon Washburn are planning a large chicken ranch. There's more than one way to get yourself surrounded by "chicks."

Mae Wharry is now a Chicago society matron.

When you and I were young

Mattos

- Spencer Alford.....Here's the guy with the Freshman flame,
You know, Joyce Hacker is her name.
- Lucille Baggot.....The best of ways to lengthen one's days
Is to steal a few hours from the nights.
- Mary Claire Baggot....Roses are red, violets are blue,
I'm flunking Chemistry, how about you?
- Audrey Berry.....Some day my Prince will come
And I wish he'd hurry up, the bum!
- Dorothy Brown.....Here's the gal who's preventing Trumble
From giving other girls a tumble.
- Lyle Cole.....Send me anywhere
But not to a town with-outskirts!
- Viola Cole.....Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Oh, why aren't they all as contented as me?
- Barbara Crist.....She's gone over the hill to find the Dale.
- Ross Curry.....The blonde that I dream of is pretty and how!
Not a mere woman but a nice Guernsey cow!
- Karl Decker.....Wheaties have done a lot for me!
- Arlene Dunham.....I'm up each morning bright and early Catching that school bus is driving me squirrly!
- Imogene Dunham.....I'm through with school, so I'm away
From books and teachers and F.H.A.
- Rosemary Ebert.....Sweet and quiet,
No one can deny it.
- Norman Fedderly.....Your heads are bursting; ears are ringing,
Don't despair—it's just my singing!
- Theo Field.....If I enter the school before the stroke of nine,
I go back home, having plenty of time!
- Clinton Fish.....If you happen to know him, you'll have to agree,
For Judy there's no better Fish in the sea.
- Gordon Gasser.....Wedding is destiny
And hanging likewise!
- Darleen Giebel.....Silence is more musical than any song.
- Duane Giebel.....Cuader's our track star, covered with glory,
Swift as a bird; at least that's his story!
- Jack Gruman.....A talking machine always wound up and going,
He's mastered whatever is worth the knowing.
- Beatrice Gussel.....And casual as any clerk,
She deals in dreams, and calls it—work.
- Barbara Gutzler.....Norm, Norm, Norm, Norm, Norm.
- Ward Herrick.....His conduct still right though his argument wrong—
Don't press him too far, he gets mad before long.

Mottos

- Gordon Johnson.....Nights are long, oh, so long——!
Harold Kaiser.....I class teachers in with cats—
When they're away, a Mouse can play.
Jean Kelly.....With a fellow named Gruman you've certainly seen
This brown-haired girl by the name of Jean.
James Lambert.....Strolls to the bandroom, picks up his horn,
And goes off on a toot!
Robert Larkin.....I'll take a blonde, brunette or red-head,
But please save me from a dead-head!
Fred Lowe.....The world belongs to the ambitious,
But who wants the world anyway!
Ethel Murray.....Yes, I was in love once—lots of times!
Joan O'Connell.....I didn't tell a soul—
I didn't know it was a secret!
Donald Platt.....And in conclusion I'd like to say,
That the worthy Republicans they—
Kathleen Platt.....I'll have to admit that should "he" come along,
My resistance would not be very strong.
Deloris Playman.....She's true to one—at a time.
William Pomper.....My photograph developing sure takes lots of time,
But the thing that worries me is that I never make a dime!
Doris Rasmussen.....Wintertime has many joys
But can't compare with tourist boys!
Virginia Rothwell....When my eyes start to spark and I start to turn ruddy,
Leave me alone, or I'll beat you bloody!
Frank Russell.....I may not always be right, but I'm never wrong!
Marjorie Sarrington...She's after one—to make a couple.
Beverly Sherer.....My favorite subject is Jim.
Joanne Stephan.....I love my dad, but oh, you kid!
Belita Stokes.....When the right man comes along
I hope he'll be handsome, rich, and strong.
Donna Tolson.....Likes the boys and shouts out cheers,
Best cheerleader in many years.
John Trumble.....Next to my head I like wavy hair best!
Curtis Washburn.....On the subject of cars I'm in with the experts
And I might not do bad on the subject of skirts!
Gordon Washburn.....I like women, they're for me
If I lie, tie me to a tree,
With a cutie on each side of me!
Mae Wharry.....When my daily work is done
Chicago should be lots of fun!

Wills

- I, Spencer Alford, leave--and is Bud Gussel glad!
- I, Lucille Baggot, leave my fuschia suit and a pair of red socks to Elaine Halverson.
- I, Mary Claire Baggot, leave my driving ability to Gerald Riese.
- I, Audrey Berry, leave Latin class with no regrets.
- I, Dorothy Brown, leave my class ring to anyone who'll replace it with a diamond.
- I, Lyle Cole, leave my whiskers to Norm Leege.
- I, Viola Cole, leave my favorite jump rope to Barbara Drollinger.
- I, Barbara Crist, leave my twirling corps(e) to its own devices.
- I, Ross Curry, leave--after all, I've graduated!
- I, Karl Decker, leave--aw girls don't take it so hard!
- I, Arlene Dunham, leave to celebrate my graduation.
- I, Imogene Dunham, leave Merton and Meralyn to get through the next years like I did.
- I, Rosemary Ebert, leave my quiet speech and retiring manner to Jim Dixon.
- I, Norman Fedderly, leave my discuss to any whirling dervish.
- I, Theo Field, leave the Juniors to anyone who can stand their jokes.
- I, Clinton Fish, leave my name to any sucker.
- I, Gordon Gasser, leave because I'm now head of the Bored of Education.
- I, Darleen Giebel, leave---quietly.
- I, Duane Giebel, leave my engaging curls to Roy Luke.
- I, Bob Gillingham, leave--and I just got here!
- I, Jack Gruman, leave all bowling pins for slaves and mental deficientes to set up.
- I, Beatrice Gussel, leave my roller-skating parties to anyone not already too bruised to enjoy them.
- I, Barbara Gutzler, leave school--but not Norm!
- I, Ward Herrick, leave Miss Johnson before I drive her completely insane.
- I, Gordon Johnson, leave---whew, I made it!

And More Wills

- I, Harold Kaiser, leave my crew cut to the Fuller Company.
- I, Jean Kelly, leave my smile to Mr. Reineking when he's repeating a test question for the 17th time.
- I, Jim Lambert, leave my horn to Kenny Platt. I want to see him handle both of them!
- I, Bob Larkin, leave my questions to Mimie Kerwin if she should ever run out of her own.
- I, Fred Lowe, leave my running ability to Edward Collidge so he can keep a good distance ahead of all those chasing women.
- I, Ethel Murray, leave to make a lot of money. I'll get a Cadillac yet!
- I, Joan O'Connell, leave my personality to--hm, maybe I'd better keep it!
- I, Donald Platt, leave PFA. It will simply never be the same again.
- I, Kathleen Platt, leave my majorette boots to anyone foolish enough to want to polish them.
- I, Deloris Playman, leave--so the male population can quit panting!
- I, William Komper, leave the school bus to struggle on without me.
- I, Doris Rasmussen, leave bookkeeping to anyone who--well, just anyone!
- I, Virginia Rothwell, leave for the Window Glass Factory to show them what a real pane is!
- I, Frank Russell, leave my neat Trig assignments to Mr. Shea for models for his future Algebra classes.
- I, Marjorie Sarrington, leave Suzanne to groan out the next two years in peace.
- I, Beverly Sherer, leave for the nearest fire--can't wait to burn this Chemistry notebook!
- I, Joanne Stephan, leave my "Fest looking" and "Best Figure" titles to next year's Senior girls to fight over.
- I, Belita Stokes, leave John Allen to have one year in peace.
- I, Donna Tofson, leave my megaphone to anyone who isn't a loudmouth--if there is anyone!
- I, John Trumble, leave my car to Mickey Kline--he needs an extra if anyone does!
- I, Curtis Washburn, leave, period. That was Curt.
- I, Gordon Washburn, leave English--as far behind as possible!
- I, Mae Wharry, leave before I should die. I wouldn't be caught dead in a place like this!

ARABIAN NIGHTS JUNIOR PROM MAY 3, 1946

Under a twinkling silver star-bedecked canopy of blue, happy couples danced to the music of Hal Edwards' Orchestra. The "Arabian Nights" theme was carried out with beautiful girls, stalwart sheiks, camels, genies, and the "Oasis" where refreshments were served. Free refreshments were also served at "Oasis, Jr." (the renamed bubbler.)

King Karl Decker crowned his Queen, Joni Stephan, with a floral crown of white sweet peas centered with a red rose. The crown was presented on a satin cushion by little Patty Trumble. The king and queen then led the traditional grand march.

A wonderful time was had by all and we are proud of the success of our Prom.

Here is the class of 1948 as Juniors. Our prom was the thing this year and with all our beautiful girls and brilliant boys it was easy to make it a success. Next year we will be mighty Seniors but I doubt if the change will be taken too seriously. Because there will be many who will wish to cling to the fond memories that our Junior year held for everyone.

Stop!! Before going on in this wonderful edition you are now reading, will you please take notice of this short note. This, ladies and gentlemen was written to present to you the sad facts of our class. It is the usual procedure to give you the good and admit the bad, but having given this problem considerable thought and having done intensive research, I am forced to reveal for inspection the many skeletons in our class closet. I will devote the next few lines to deep concentrated thought.

No, by George, there aren't any. There is not so much as one disreputable person in our whole career. I have come to the conclusion that we are positively the only class where everyone is a genius. We are wonderful, stupendous, colossal, admirable and brilliant, "We are the sophomores!"

Above you see the smiling faces of the class of Nineteen-fifty. In the Freshman articles of previous years, the truth has been greatly exaggerated, but in this article you will find absolute truth! And nothing else--well--not much else! To begin with--we have about the greatest number of screwballs ever gathered under one roof. Of course, we have a few normal people, but they are definitely the exception! Among our numerous characters, it is possible to find some fairly good athletes, some very good-looking boys, and--not only that! We also have one nice-looking girl! However, we will have to admit that our gym class often looks more like an "orthopedic fugitives" meeting than anything else. Now comes the time to be serious. We can honestly say that our class has worked hard and made quite a success of our dances, skits, etc. Also, we have always held the deepest respect for our upper classmen--well--we tried--a little. In view of the success of our freshman year, we expect to have the greatest class yet in Wisconsin Dells High School history.

Homecoming

This year we celebrated our annual "Homecoming" on Thursday evening, October 17.

During the day, a majority of the High School was busy gathering fuel for the bonfire. Included were trees, boxes, and, best of all, Portage High School in effigy.

The great crowd of high school students, and hobo-dressed grade children began arriving between seven and seven-thirty.

Floats and trucks were lined up and soon everything was under way. Our band led this grand procession, followed by a seemingly endless line of "Kids" in the snake dance. Then came our royal couple, the Homecoming King Fred Lowe, and his chosen Queen, Joan O'Connell; riding in the one and only "T" Terror. Next in line was a Semi carrying our football heroes. Other vehicles in the parade were: Berry's truck (loaded with girls), tractors, the Lake Delton float, and other jalopies.

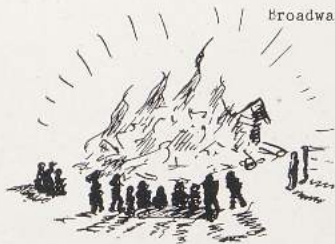

The colorful procession proceeded up Broadway and the laughter, singing, and cheers were undoubtedly heard for blocks.

After parading around town, everyone came back to the school to witness the huge bonfire. While the fire blazed, we listened to a program which was emceed by cheerleader Donna Tofson. The program consisted of awarding prizes to the best-dressed hobos. Richard Radke won first prize.

An inspiring talk and a cheer were given us by Reverend Genzler. The team was then given a hearty cheer.

The Homecoming celebration ended early (supposedly) as our football players needed sleep to be in first class condition for the game with Portage on the following afternoon.

THE 1946 FOOTBALL SEASON

Although the Dells gridgers this year were handicapped, due to the injuries received by their able Captain, Karl Decker, they managed to build for themselves a record of yardage gained which was superior to that of all the opposing teams, with the exception of Stoughton. The highlight of the season was our sensational seven-six victory over Baraboo in the last five minutes of the game. This defeat over our greatest rival made the rest of the season worth while.

BASKETBALL

The Wisconsin Dells Resorters ended a mediocre season this year with four conference wins against nine defeats. Two victories during the current season stand out in importance to school, school body and team. The first was a 28-25 victory over Wisconsin High during the earlier part of the season. This win was important mainly because it gave the Dells its first victory over the Madison school in all the years in the Southern Ten Conference. Our second important victory which came later in the season was a 54-38 upset over the high-riding Circus City five from Baraboo. The team deserves special credit for this victory because it knocked Baraboo out of an undisputed third place to a three-way tie in the conference standing, and also because of the rivalry set up between these two neighboring team. Fred Lowe has been elected Captain for the team this year.

Through the Lens

The Annual Staff Bids Adieu

Fred Lowe, Frank Russell, and Bill Pomper were the senior boys of the staff. To Frank goes the credit for the title page, Fred helped with copy layout, and Bill was the sketch artist.

Theo Field, Virginia Rothwell, and Jean Kelly. "Sis" was the business manager and a writer. "Rothwell" was our Editor-in-chief, writer, and general jack-of-all-trades. "Kelly" helped organize the class writeups.

Joanne Stephan, Audrey Perry, Joan O'Connell, and Mary Claire Baggot. "Aud" was our photographer, Mary Claire helped with the typing, and "Joani" and "O'Connell" did layout work and were generally useful.

We would like to have you know it, (though our faces may not show it,)

That our staff this year was most intelligent.

There were seniors intellectual,

Underclassmen's minds effectual,

All have given time and many talents lent.

You have looked all through our book, please don't give it to the cook

For her firewood! Keep it for the memories

Of daily work and later fun,

Assignments finished or undone,

Tests marked with A's or B's or C's or D's.

Keep it for your future years, and through laughter and through tears,

You'll be able to recapture time again,

And recall your high school days,

With sports and dates and other ways

We hope you have and will enjoy it—so amen!

—VMR

To Bob Fulton, Homer Plumb, and Jack Wagner goes credit for the class writeups. "Jag" also wrote the basketball writeup.

Norman Fedderly and Barbara Gutzler worked on the 1917 prophecies.

Barbara Anderson and Jim Bull were Junior staff members acting as co-editor and assistant business manager respectively.
