Foreword

Wisconsin Dells High School in 1958 was a mighty wonderful place to be, and we have tried to capture between the covers of the ARROW some of the important events of the year.

To help you to remember familiar scenes, to meet again the friends you knew, and to recall some of the things you did, we have prepared for you the WD Album of Songs for 1958.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORY

"Will we ever meet our deadline!" Taking pictures, laying out pages, writing articles, typing copy--all this goes into the meeting of each deadline. The members of the staff, under the direction of Bill Brown, editor, Gail Wickus, assistant editor, and Mrs. Plenke, advisor, have given up much of their time to make this year's Arrow an interesting book. A great deal of credit should be given to Dick Klein, who is responsible for most of the photography in the book.

The purpose of the club is to provide experience in photography so that by gaining knowledge and understanding of the procedures in taking pictures, developing them, and printing them, the student might add to his enjoyment of this very interesting hobby.

SENIOR DEBATERS: R. Gruman, D. Kelly, B. Brown.

"Resolved that U.S. economic aid to foreign countries be limited to technical assistance and disaster relief" is this year's debate proposition. From the group who reported for debate this fall a debate team consisting of four debaters, two affirmative and two negative, debated this question. Any student interested in controversy, in learning to think and speak, in gaining poise and confidence is invited to come out for debate.

Forensics

SEATED: L. Everson, A. McMillan, M. Bogh, E. Savage, A. Brown, P. Dougherty. STANDING: G. Wickus, Mr. Lucke, J. Elliot, E. Cole, R. Gruman, M. Van Duren.

Expression, diction, and action mainly are stressed in the practice for forensics. In addition, the person engaged in forensic work sometimes, as in declamations, lives the part of another; he must have the ability to act. Forensics is a speech activity including such phases of speech as declamations, interpretative reading, extemporaneous reading, extemporaneous speaking, and oratory. Under the direction of Mr. Lucke, the forensic program is one of the most valuable activities in our school because the participants derive a long-lasting benefit from their work, which may well prove invaluable in later life.

These boys, under the direction of Mr. Weigel, learn through experience as well as through books. The club sends delegates to the leadership training meetings, the FFA State Convention, the state judging contests at the University of Wisconsin, and to speaking contests.

"May we live up to our motto in making contributions to our home, our school, and community life!"

The FHA motto "Toward New Horizons" expresses the purpose of the organization--learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow. The program, as carried out under the direction of Mrs. Winn, helps each individual girl to show growth through planned experiences in the area in which she has her greatest need. A degree program allows for club members to gain recognition for this growth.

One of the most popular events of the year is the banquet at which members of FHA, in cooperation with the members of FFA, entertain their parents.

"Leadership, scholarship, courtesy, integrity!" These are the qualities upon which membership in the International Key Club are based. Membership is limited to 18 boys, and it is a distinct honor to be voted a member of the club.

The primary purpose of the club is service to the school and community--and throughout the year, under the direction of Mr. Reineking, the activities of the club are directed toward fulfilling that purpose. Following are some of the activities of the club: It annually awards a scholarship of $100 to further the education of a senior boy or girl. The members helped with the drive to secure blood donors. The club sponsored Blue-White Day which is held on the day that Baraboo plays basketball on the WD court. On the night of our Open House the club presented each member of the faculty with a corsage or boutonniere.

"May we have a dance after the game Friday night?" It is questions such as this that the Student Council settles at its regular meetings. The Student Council, which is under the direction of Mr. Fitzpatrick, is composed of 3 members from each class and they are concerned with student welfare, directing activities and making suggestions for the general school betterment. This year the Council approved dress regulations at school events open to the public. It also initiated a Christmas Charity Dance for the benefit of the underprivileged in the community.

The Student Council is an excellent way for students to share in the government of the school and we hope that future Student Councils will continue the excellent work done by the Council this year.

When you hear strains of music floating through the halls during activity periods on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, you know that our mixed chorus is rehearsing. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Kelley, is called upon to sing many times during the year, and they always give a splendid performance. Some of the important functions at which they performed during the year are the Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert, the Music Festival, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Sounds of drums, cornets, clarinets and other musical instruments float throughout the halls as the band rehearses under the able direction of Mr.ENZ. Our band contributed a great deal to our student life through their participation in the annual concerts, music festivals, football and basketball games. The director's originality and the band's cooperation made our majorette and twirlers proud to lead such an organization. After much hard practice Mr.ENZ displayed the achievements the band had worked so hard to attain. Band members and the entire student body can be very proud of the performance of the band.

On the afternoon of October 18, 1957, an air of excitement spread through the school as our Homecoming festivities got under way.

A thrilling pep rally with a skit, cheers, speeches, and introduction of the queen and her court was followed by a parade of floats from each class and club. Competition for the prizes was keen, with honors going to the senior class. The highlight of the day was the game with Reedsburg. Following the game everyone danced to the music of Benny Ehr.

The Homecoming festivities were led by Queen Marion Hacker and King Ken Harrison and the Court, Pat Abel, Tim Ryan, Sandy Bremer, Dave McClyman, Judy Nelson, Roger Stowers, Sandy Field, and Bill Gaffney.
